PREFACE

The Fifth Population and Housing Census, due in March 1991, was conducted in March 1998 i.e. after a lapse of 7 years from its due date. The entire country was covered from 2-18 March 1998 including Federally Administered Tribal Areas, Northern Areas and Azad Kashmir. During the first three days i.e. from 2nd to 4th March housing units were physically numbered and registered as an inventory for conduct of the census from 5th to 18th March. The inventory also served as a guideline for the supervisors besides ensuring coverage of left out housing units, of listing operation, during the census operation.

Name, age, sex, marital status, educational attainment, relationship with the head of the household, nationality, religion, mother tongue, literacy and possession of National Identity Card were the population topics. Whereas number of households, tenure, period when constructed, construction material of walls and roofs and source of drinking water-inside or outside, source of light, fuels used, type of kitchen, bathroom and toilet facilities and watching of TV, listening to radio and reading of newspapers were the housing units topics. Besides core questions about migration alongwith its reasons, economically active population, fertility, field of education, disability and inoculation of children against 6 diseases were asked about all persons on sample basis.

There were 3 questionnaires designed for registration of housing units and collection of information on population and housing characteristics. Form-1 (Annex-A) was used for registration of housing units. Form-2 i.e. short form (Annex-B) was used for collection of information about all persons on core questions pointed out in the foregoing paragraph. While remaining topics were inquired on sample basis and Form 2-A i.e. long form (Annex-C) was used. Necessary definitions and concepts relating to the above mentioned questionnaires/ forms are given at (Annex-D) for information of our readers.

About 8 per cent single stage stratified sample was drawn with slightly more representation given to small provinces, districts and urban areas to make it a representative sample.

The report consists of five parts viz(I) Write up which carries some general description of the district, (II) Broad analysis of population census data, (III) Broad analysis of housing census data, (IV) comprises statistical tables while part(V) provides additional information about part I to IV in the form of annexures.

The general description covers location, boundaries, area, geography, climate, rainfall, ethnicity, administrative set-up, agriculture, flora and fauna, health, industries, communication system, infra structure, besides introducing the district. The main findings on population characteristics deal with population size, growth and distribution; sex, age and marital status composition; literacy and educational attainment; economic activities, migration, mother tongue, fertility, disability, possession of National Identity Card, inoculation of children against six diseases and homeless population. Whereas main findings on housing characteristics throw light on housing units/households, information on number of rooms,including population density per housing unit and per room,tenure,period since constructed, construction material used on walls and roofs, source of drinking water,source of light,cooking fuel used in kitchen, availability of kitchen,toilet and bathroom facilities and source of information etc.

Efforts have been made to provide maximum but meaningful data amenable to possible statistical analysis useful for planners, researchers and other users from grass roots to national level. The report comprises 52 tables in all, of which 38 relate to population characteristics, 12 to housing characteristics while two deal with some housing as well as population characteristics. Of 52 tables 27 are based on complete count information while remaining on sample count information. Because of space problem the tables on occupation and industries are in coded form. Therefore, after mentioning occupation and industries in coded form on the tables the details of occupational and industrial groups are appended at Annex-E&F respectively.

Census taking was a gigantic task which involved a large field force drawn from Provincial Government Departments mainly for which active cooperation of concerned officials/officers was highly essential. This report will remain incomplete without acknowledging the efforts made by the field staff, armed forces Jawans and the cooperation extended by their officers especially the Chief Secretary, Punjab and Headquarters Army Air Defence Command Rawalpindi. The credit also goes to officers of Statistics Division and Federal Bureau of Statistics for rendering administrative and technical support. I am personally indebted to the Government who encouraged to conduct the census in March, 1998 and later showed keen interest taken in releasing the data as early as possible for the benefits of all users. I also thank the donor agencies like UNFPA, UNDP and UNICEF for providing financial assistance in acquiring equipment/machinery and technical support for the conduct of census. It would not be justified to release this report without acknowledging the efforts made by the technical staff of Population Census Organization, in providing technical guidelines, the management services given by the administration, the services support rendered by the secretariat staff.

Despite making the best efforts in producing quality output I believe that there is great room for improvement, therefore, constructive comments/suggestions from all concerned are welcome.

PART - I
GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE DISTRICT

1 GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF THE DISTRICT

1.1 INTRODUCTION

Lahore district takes its name from its headquarters city, which according to a Hindu legend was founded by Lahu, the son of Raja Ram of Ramayan about 4000 years ago. Historically it has been proved that Lahore is about 2000 years old. Hieun-Tsang, the famous Chinese pilgrim, has given a vivid description of Lahore city which he visited in the early parts of the seventh century A.D.

For 200 years, beginning from about 1525 A.D., Lahore was a thriving cultural centre of the great Mughal Empire. Mughal emperors beautified Lahore, with palaces, gardens and mosques. During the British regime many monuments sprang up in Lahore which blended beautifully with the Mughal gothic and victorian styles of architecture.

Lahore is the second largest city in Pakistan and the provincial capital of Punjab. Apart from being the cultural and academic centre of the country, Lahore is the Mughal Show-Window of Pakistan. The origins of Lahore are shrouded in the mists of antiquity. Reminiscence of its hoary past are the remains of a sub-terranean temple in the northern part of the Royal Fort, attributed to Lord Rama, the legendary hero of Ramayana. Lying on the main trade and invasion route to the sub-continent, Lahore has been ruled and plundered by a number of dynasties. However it touched the zenith of its glory during the rule of Mughals. The Mughals, who were famous as builders, gave Lahore some of its finest architectural monuments that are extinct today.

The origin of the city of Lahore and its early history is shrouded in mystery. Abu Raihan Muhammad Bin Ahmed Al-Biruni in his Tarikhay Hind, at the time of Muhmud Ghazanavi's invasion, mentions Lahore. In order to obtain conclusive evidence it was decided to use the more dependable method of archaeological excavations in the old fort, situated on the highest point of the city. The upper levels revealed building remains of the British and Sikh period. The Mughal period is marked by intensive building activities. The outstanding find from the lower level was a gold coin of Mahmood of Ghazni struck at Ghazni during the time of the Abbas Caliph at Qadir Ballah. Below the pre-Mughal levels the remains of the non-Muslim or Hindu period were encountered. After the 1972 Census of Pakistan, the entire Kasur and Chunian Tehsils were taken away from Lahore district to form Kasur district. The present Lahore district, therefore, consists of two Tehsils viz Lahore city and Lahore Cantonment.

1.2 LOCATION

The district lies between 31° -15' and 31° 43' north latitudes and 74° -10' and 74° -39' east longitudes.

1.3 AREA

The total area of the district is 1,772 square kilometres.

1.4 BOUNDARIES

The district is bounded by Sheikhupura district on the north and west separating the two districts by Ravi river, on the east by the Indian district Amritsar and on the south by Kasur district.

1.5 PHYSICAL FEATURES AND TOPOGRAPHY

1.5.1 Physical Features

The district is divided into two parts. The low lying alluvial soil along the Ravi river and the upland area in the east, away from the Ravi occupies the full length of Amritsar border on the east of the district. The low lands are generally inundated by the water of the Ravi during monsoon floods. The Ravi flows in the west of the district along its boundary with Sheikhupura district. The upland is a plain slope from north-east to south-west. The general height of the area is about 150 to 200 metres above the sea level. Moreover the low land which lies to the south is known as Hithar. The soil is mostly soft alluvial loam, easy to fill but rather sandy to be genuinely fertile.

1.5.2 Topography

The district derives itself naturally between the central uplands and alluvial lands of the Ravi, having no hills or mountains of any kind. The alluvial land of Lahore can be sub-divided into (a) Uttar and (b) Hithar. Uttar lies in the north and forms about two third of the entire land. The low lands are known as Hithar which are generally inundated by the water of the Ravi river during Monsoon floods. Ravi flows in the west of the district along its boundary with Sheikhupura district. The general height of the area is approximately 150 to 200 metres above sea level.

The soil is very different in character and generally inclined to be dry. However, it is rich in potential plant nutrients. Rain fall is precarious, well water is mostly saline and brackish and irrigation is largely dependent on the canals. Tubewells have also been sunk in the areas where water is fit for irrigation. The chemical quality of ground water in the district varies area wise in depths. However, the sweet potable water is available in a belt five to twenty miles wide paralleling the river Ravi. In Hithar (From Heth below) irrigation supplies are non perennial and tubewells have been installed to make up the deficiencies. The soil here is soft alluvial and loam yielding but at some places it is too sandy to be fertile.

1.5.3 Geology

Lahore district does not claim any valuable minerals to its credit. Although very scientific, deep and detailed investigation has not been carried out, yet the surveys conducted till todate have failed to discover any minerals worth the name. The only minerals worth any value are kallar and kankar. Kallar is the gray powdery substance collected and taken out from the old village sites and other deserted abodes in the district. It is used for the manufacture of crude saltpetre and also as a manure for the top dressing of young cotton and tobacco plants (no longer in the line of extensive cultivation). With the passage of time the demand for 'kallar diminished and its use as a trading commodity is on the decline. Kankar is used for metalling roads and its smaller particulars are burnt for lime. It is a kind of limestone gravel and is found, after being dug out at a depth varying from one to eight feet, in many parts of the district particularly the uplands.

The soil of the district is entirely alluvial. The only mineral products of any value are kankar and kallar. Kankar is used for metaling roads, the smaller particles being burnt for lime. Kallar is a gray powdery substance produced intermittently from old village sites and similar places and is used both as manure and for the manufacture of crude saltpeter.

1.6 FLORA

Flora of the district has been greatly modified by human agency of the old open forests of small trees and shrubs. There remains only a few Rakhs or portions of forests which are kept as grazing grounds for cattle etc. Amongst trees, the most important are Kikar (Acacia arabica), Shisham or Tahli (Delbergia sissoo), Beri (Zizyphus jujuba), Toot (Morus alba), Sharin (Albizzia lebbek), Dharek (Melia azebarach), Phulai (Acacia modesta). Pipal (Ficus religiosa) and Bohr(Fieus bengalansis) are planted for shade. The growth in Rakhs is composed mainly of three kind of trees Jand(Prosocpis spicigera), Karil(Capparis aphylla), and Wan(Salvadora oleoides). Occasionally Rero(Acocia ieucophhloea) and Farash(Tamarix articalata) are also found. Pilchhi(Tamarix dioica) is found on moist sandy soil along the river and is used for wicker work, basket making etc.

1.7 FAUNA

Jackal is the only wild animal of any importance found everywhere in open fields. In some areas pig and hare are also found.

1.8 CLIMATE

The district has extreme climate. The summer season starts in April and continues till September. May, June and July are the hottest months. The mean maximum and minimum temperatures for these months are 40.4 and 27.3 degree centigrades respectively. The winter season lasts from November to March. December, January and February are the coldest months. The mean maximum and minimum temperatures for this period are 21.1 and 7.2 degree centigrades respectively. The district has light to moderate rain fall during January and February, which is succeeded by a spell of pleasant spring weather. In April temperature starts rising and two succeeding months are quite hot. Dust storms occur occasionally during this season relieving temporarlly the intensity of the heat. Towards, the end of June monsoon starts and during the following two and a half months spells of rainy weather alternate with intervals of sultry weather. In May and June the maximum temperature at time rises to 40.4 degree centigrade. The minimum temperature in winter sometimes goes down to zero degree centigrade.

TABLE 1.1 MONTH-WISE TEMPERATURE AND PRECIPITATION, 1961-90

1.9 ETHNIC STRUCTURE AND HISTORY

1.9.1 History

Most of the Hindu traditions trace the origin of Lahore to Rama, the King of Ayodha (Ouvadh) and the here of the Ramayana (Ramayin). It is generally said that two sons of Rama, Lav or Lah and Kash founded the neighbouring cities of Lahore and Kasur. The name 'Lahore' is, however, not peculiar to this city but there are various other places named Lahore. One in Afghanistan, one in Peshawar district, one on the banks of Indus, one in Kashmir, one near Gwaliar (India) and one in the Mewat State of Rajputana (India).

Earlier, the Muslim writers mentioned it in varied forms, i.e. Lahore, Lahewar, Lehawar, Laha-nor and Lahwar. Lohawar is however the oldest and the most correct form of the name since it appears in the writings of Abu Rehan Al-Beruni, a contemporary and companion of Sultan Mahmood of Ghazna.

The historians have not been able to discover the exact date or period of the foundation of Lahore. It is generally believed that Lahore, if it existed, did not have any importance upto the first century A.D. because there is no mention or indication of Lahore, nor of any city with which it could be justifiably identified in the writings of the Greek historians who covered Alexander's expeditions. It is evidently clear that Alexander crossed the Ravi in the vicinity of Lahore and must have passed by the site of modern city.

For the first time in recorded history, Lahore appeared in the memoirs of famous Chinese globe trotter, Hiuan Tsiang, who mentioned it as a large Brahaminical city visited by him in A.D. 630 while on his way to Jullandar.

In 988 A.D. Subaktagin, the ruler of the Kingdom of Ghazna, invaded Punjab and defeated the Rajput ruler Jaipal. Later on Sultan Mahmood, the son and successor of Subaktagin, followed the footsteps of his father and subjected Punjab to many successive and successful invasions. Most prominent attack on this area was made by Sultan Mahmood in 1008 A.D. when the Rajput ruler Anandpal was decisively defeated and Lahore annexed to the Kingdom of Ghazana.

After eliminating Hindu power, Sultan Mahmood appointed Malik Ayaz as the Governor of Punjab who is known as founder of Lahore by virtue of one Muslim Tradition. The Ghaznavid princes ruled over Lahore and Punjab through their viceroys. Lahore was the headquarters and seat of Provincial authority. During the reign of Sultan Masud (III) (1099-1114 A.D.) Lahore became the seat of the government of Kingdom of Ghazna.

In 1186 A.D., Sultan Muhammad Ghauri defeated the last Ghaznavid ruler Khusro Malik and established his hold over Lahore.

Qutab-ud-Din Aibak was appointed as Governor of Lahore by the Sultan of Ghaur in 1206. He died in 1210 playing Chaugan (a kind of Polo) and buried in Lahore. After his death, Nasir-ud-Din Kibacha, assumed control of Lahore. In 1217 A.D. Sultan Shams-ud-Din Altamash became the master of the city who died in 1230. After him, Razia Sultana ruled for three years and replaced by Muiz-ud-Din Behram who ruled over here till 1239 A.D. Lahore was taken by Mangols in 1241 and put to ransom in 1246.

Mohamood, a son of king of throne of Dehli (from 1266-1286) was appointed as the Governor of Punjab by his father. He established his seat at Lahore supervised the rehabilitation and reconstruction of Lahore which had been devastated by Mangol invasion in 1241 A.D. In the year 1289 A.D., the Khiljis seized the reign of power and ruled over the Sultanate of Dehli till 1321 A.D. During this period Lahore did not figure prominently in affairs of the Sultanate.

Ghias-ud-Din Tughlaq founded the Tughlaq Dynasty which ruled over India from 1321 to 1414 A.D. In 1342 Khokhars invaded and captured Lahore. However it was some how recovered by Sarang Khan. In 1398 A.D. Taimurlung during invasion of Tamerlain (Taimur) in Punjab, beside other areas of the Province, Lahore was also captured by a detachment of his Army.

After return of Mangols, Khizar Khan became the Governor of the principality which included Lahore, Multan and Depalpur. Lahore laid desolate till it was rebuilt by Mubarik Shah in 1422 A.D. He was a representative of Tamerlain in India. In 1445 A.D., Bahlol Khan Lodhi became a Governor of Lahore and Depalpur who finally founded the Lodhi Dynasty in 1451 which continued till 1524 during this period, Lahore remained a part of this Sultanate.

Babar invaded Punjab in 1524 A.D. and captured Lahore in the same year. Later on, a great battle was fought between armies of Babar and Sultan Ibrahim Lodhi in 1526 A.D. at Panipat. As a result of this battle Babar ascended the throne of Dehli as conqueror to lay the foundation of Mughal Dynasty which ruled over India till 1759 A.D. The period of Mughal's rule over India can be safely termed as the golden period of Lahore. After the death of Babar in 1530 A.D., his son Hamayyun became the king of the Sultanate of Dehli. A few year later Sher Shah Suri compelled Hamayyun to flee from the Capital (Dehli) and seek refuge in Lahore. He did not stay at Lahore for long time and skipped to Umerkot where in 1542 A.D. Akbar was born in 1554 A.D. Hamayyun entered Lahore triumphantly and his Army captured Agra and Delhi in 1555 A.D. He appointed his son Akbar as Governor of Punjab in 1556 A.D. After the death of Humayyun, Akbar became the third Mughal Monarch in India in February, 1556.

Lahore gained importance after the accession of Akbar. Abul Fazal describing Lahore in the second year of Akbar's reign said "It is a very populous city, the grand resort of people of all nations and a centre of extensive commerce. In the shortest (possible) time large armies can be mobiles from here and ammunition in any quantity procured for the use of troops".

From 1584 A.D. Akbar stayed in Lahore, held his court and made it his headquarters to conduct and supervise the military operations for the subjugation of north eastern Afghans and conquests of Kashmir, Sindh and Kandhar. Akbar appointed Toder Mal of Deewan of Lahore. Todar Mal belonged to Chunian, now a tehsil of District Kasur, and had considerable skill in revenue administration. For the first time in the history of Lahore he introduced logical system of land measurement and revenue account. He also gave Lahore a new rent roll.

During this period Lahore became a centre of vital importance. He raised many gardens in and around Lahore under the skillful supervision of gardeners brought from Persia for special assignments of cultivating Grapes and Melons in Lahore. Lahore also became a great seat of learning, knowledge, arts and crafts. Many institutions which attracted scores of foreign students from far and wide, cropped up here in a short span of time.

In 1598 A.D. Akbar moved on to Agra on his way to Daccan after appointing Prince Khurram, the governor of Lahore.

Akbar died at Agra in October, 1605 A.D. Immediately thereafter, Sultan Noor-ud-Din Jehangir became the Emperor of India.

Right from the very beginning Jahangir had developed fondness for Lahore. As a matter of routine he used to hold his courts at Lahore while on his way to Kabul or Kashmir and back.

Under his orders shady trees were planted on either side of the road linking Agra with Lahore. Minarets were constructed at a distance of one 'Kos' each between Agra and Lahore and pucca wells were sunk at a distance of three 'Kos' each on the road known as Grand Trunk Road.

He also held court at Lahore in 1622 A.D. He died in 1627 A.D. and was burried in Lahore in accordance with his express wish. Many years after his death his favourite wife Noor Jehan and her brother Asif Jah were laid to rest near the Mausoleum of Jehangir. After the death of Jehangir, his third son Prince Khurram, subsequently known as Shah Jehan, ascended the throne. He was born at Lahore in 1592 A.D. Soon after his accession, because of the attachment with his place of birth, Shah Jehan held his court at Lahore. Thereafter he left for Agra and reached there on 4th February, 1628. He returned to Lahore in 1638 A.D. and appointed Ali Mardan Khan, the Governor of Punjab and Kashmir.

Shah Jehan is known in the history of India as a great builder. In 1634 A.D. he ordered the laying of the Shalimar Garden. He also ordered the repairs and reconstruction of Lahore Fort. Under his orders and as per his desire the local chiefs constructed many beautiful buildings in Lahore and decorated the existing ones. In the last year of his reign, a war of succession began among his four sons. Aurangzeb defeated the three other princes and captivated the emperor declaring himself the rightlful heir of the Sultanate. He was formally coronated in 1659 A.D. In the same year he visited Lahore and appointed Khalil Ullah Khan the viceroy of Lahore. He again visited Lahore in 1663 A.D. and stayed in Dilkuhsa Garden, across River Ravi, for a few days. He ordered the construction of Badshahi Mosque and about four mile long embankment, known as Band-e-Alamigiri, in order to protect the city of Lahore from floods. He died in 1707 A.D.

New Delhi was now a seat of authority only in name. The viceroy of Punjab considering the weakness of the centre a good omen, tried to break away from the empire and converted Punjab into a semi or quasi independent unit. Sikhs also started striving.

In 1709 A.D. a follower of Guru Gobind Singh known as Banda, assumed the title of 'Sacha Badshah' (Truthful King) invaded Lahore and let loose hell in the outskirts of Lahore. Shah Alam, the then king emperor marched towards Lahore in 1710 A.D. but before he reached Lahore, the Sikhs dispersed in the plains of Punjab. The emperor Shah Alam died at Lahore in 1712 A.D. After that Farrukhsair became the king of Delhi in 1713. Thereafter twenty five years passed without much of political or military activity in and around Lahore.

In 1738 A.D. Nadir Shah Durrani crossed Indus and invaded India. The entire area between Peshawar and Aimanabad, then a district lay trampled under Mongolian feet. A detachment of twenty thousand horsemen headed towards Lahore. The then governor of Lahore, Zakriay Khan, surrendered after two days siege. Nadir Shah accepted ransom in lieu of plundering the city. Uneasy situation prevailed in Lahore and Punjab. The Sikh felt relieved after fall of Dehli and were happy over this intrigues plaguing the Provincial seat of authority in Lahore. Hence they started plundering the towns laying away from the centre.

In 1748 Ahmad Shah Abdali came from Kabul in order to vanquish the subcontinent. He conquered Lahore and marched towards Delhi. His advance, however was checked at Sirhind by a Mughal Qamar-ud-Din and resultuently he returned to Kabul. Ahmad Shah Abdli again appeared on horizon of Punjab in 1749, 1752, 1756, 1762, 1764 and 1767 A.D.

In October, 1760 Ahmad Shah Abdali gave a humiliating defeat to Marhatas at Paniput. He invaded Punjab and defeated sikhs in many fierce battles. In 1767 A.D., he adopted a concilliatory policy towards the sikhs and confirmed Lehna Singh as the ruler of Lahore and returned to Kabul. For three decades, Lehna Singh and his associates ruled over Lahore without any interruption.

In 1797 A.D. Shah Zaman grandson of Ahmad Shah Abdali invaded Punjab and marched towards Lahore. Sikhs did not resist thereupon, Shah Zaman put Lahore to Ransom. In 1798, he decided to go back. However before leaving Lahore, he awarded Ranjit Singh a formal grant of the Chieftainship of Lahore.

Rajit Singh formally took over Lahore in 1799 A.D. He fell on Muslims with a very heavy hand. He virtually destroyed their places of worship, demolished several monuments and buildings which projected the glamour and glory of the Muslim rule, confiscated their properties and distributed the same among sikhs. He converted many important mosques and places of worship in Lahore into powder magazines or workshops for the manufacture of fire-arms and ammunition and stables for the horses. On the whole, Lahore and its Muslim inhabitants bore the major brunt of the prejudices of Ranjit Singh.

After the death of Ranjit Singh his eldest son Kharak Singh, came to power who died in 1840. His son Naunehal Singh succeeded him but died on the same day. After his death the Sikh Princes got involved in internecine wars of succession to the throne which weakened the Sikh Regime in Punjab and elsewhere. Realising the weakness of Sikhs, the British decided to annex Punjab. Fierce battles were fought and ultimately the Sikhs faced miserable defeats and the British Army entered Lahore on 20th February, 1846 A.D. In December, 1846 the Council of Regency was established and the British Resident became the real central authority at Lahore. Annexation of Punjab was the last nail in the confine of free but strife-torn India.

In 1857, war of Independence broke out. The Indian troops stationed in Meerut revolted against their British masters and soon the fire engulfed all major towns in the subcontinent. Although Lahore was remoted from the centre, but throughout the war of Independence, Lahore remained tense and in a disturbed state. Native Infantry Regiment stationed at Mian Mir (Lahore Cantt) rose in revolt on 26th July, 1857, and killed some of the officers. The Englishmen however isolated Lahore from other centres of the revolution. The struggle for independence failed and it sealed the fate of Indian Muslims. Period of darkness began.

In 1858 A.D. the Charter of the East India company was cancelled and the vanquished parts of India slipped under the control of the British Sovereign. The history of Lahore from 1858 A.D. onwards upto the end of 19th century A.D. is more social and economic than political. It is a history of Hindu ascendance and Muslim down fall. Like other Muslim majority areas, Lahore shared the vagaries of misfortune and temperament of English over lords.

The first important step the Englishmen took, was the restoration of all places of worship and religious importance to the communities to which they belonged. The Lieutenant Governor Sir Robert Montgomery opened the Bari Doab Canal on 11th April, 1859. In 1861 the building of Lahore Railway Station was completed and the first train from Lahore to Amritsar started running for the public.

On 1st May, 1862 Municipal Committee for Lahore assumed office. The same year Lawrence Garden was laid out. The government College was established in 1864.

Lieutenant Governor of Punjab, Sir Robert Montgomery ordered the laying of garden all around the walled city of Lahore in 1864. Montgomery Hall was constructed in Lawrence Garden in 1866. In 1868 A.D. Lahore University College was established which was later on became the University of the Punjab. The same year the Law School was established in Lahore. In 1870 Mayo Hospital was established and the Zam Zama gun placed on a plat-form on the Lower Mall and declared open as a monument of peace.

In 1872 a Zoo was established in Lawrence Garden and Oriental College began its classes. In 1874 the Railway Workshop started functioning.

On 18th January, 1876. His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales, visited Lahore from Delhi. In this year, the Senate Hall of the University College was completed. In 1878 Lahore became a base for the Afghan war and Army headquarters were established during the winter of 1878-79 under a canvas now known as the University Grounds. The Kinnaird High School for girls was established in 1879. In 1881 "The Tribune" started publication as a bilingual weekly after being founded by Sardar Dyal Singh.

The Punjab University Act was passed in 1881 and the Punjab University formally came into existence on 14th October, 1882, and the veterinary School was also established in the same year.

In 1882, Lt. Governor inaugurated the Lahore Water Works and for the first time the citizens of Lahore started getting piped water supply. In 1883 Lahore medical College was inaugurated. Sir Syed Ahmed Khan visited Lahore in 1884. Anjuman Himayat-e-Islam was established in the same year. In the year 1885 Sir Charles Aitchison opened the Punjab Public Library on 31st December.

In 1885, the year of the establishment of the Indian National Congress, Hindu Muslim riots took place in Lahore. In 1886 Punjab Chiefs College was established at Lahore. Forman Christian College started functioning in this year. In the same year, in the middle of December, the Public Service Commission met at Lahore under the presidency of the Lieutenant Governor and after protracted but comprehensive deliberations submitted proposals for throwing open, to the residents of each province, more of the higher administrative posts. About the same period Lady Aitchison Hospital was established at Lahore. Lady Ava Dufferin formally opened the Lady Aitchison Hospital for women in 1888. In 1889 the building of the Chief Court was completed on the Mall. On 25th January, 1890, the grandson of the Queen victoria visited Lahore. On 13th January, 1891, the Prince Cesarewitch, the eldest son of the Cear of Russia visited Lahore.

Freedom Movement and Lahore

Quite a few historians, Hindus, Muslims and others alike, agreed that history of Lahore for the period starting from the last quarter of nineteenth century is more social than political. This assertion neither interprets history properly nor provides glimpses of history in its true perspective. The Hindus had attained English education and they were found in civil services in large number. By virtue of their economic superiority, English patronage and their majority in the Presidency towns, beaming with trade, commerce and industry, the Hindu Bunya in the villages and the Hindu Lala merchant in cities seemed most powerful element in contemporary life.

The Punjab branch of All India Muslim League held its first session at Lahore in 1907. Amir Habib Ullah of Afghanistan visited Lahore the same year and attended the annual Session of Anjuman Himayat-e-Islam. In 1909 the twenty fourth session of the India National Congress was held at Lahore.

In 1911 Delhi ceased to be a part of Punjab. During this year a new Municipal Act was passed. The Lahore Electric Supply Company came into existence in April, 1912. In 1913 Kinnaird High School for Girls was raised to the status of a College. It was the first college for women in the Punjab. In December, 1917, Lord Harding, the Viceroy of India, performed the opening ceremony of the Kind Edward Medical College, Lahore.

In 1919, the Chief Court was raised to the status of a High Court. In March 1919, agitation began in Lahore against the Rowlett Bills. This agitation gathered momentum after the massacre at Jallianwala Bagh. Thereafter, for the first time in the history of Lahore Martial Law was clamped on 15th April, 1919 and curfew imposed from 6.00 p.m. to 5.00 am. Whipping post were also set up where the agitators convicted by the Martial Law Courts, were flogged in Public. Martial Law was lifted in August, 1919. On 3rd January 1921 Sir Edward Maclagon took over as the first Governor of Punjab. The Prince of Wales visited Lahore same year. The Lahore College for Women started its classes in 1922, in a building located on the Hall Road. During this year Lahore remained politically disturbed throughout because of the Khilafat, Hijrat and Non-cooperation movements. This year also saw the first publication of the first Muslim daily known as 'The Muslim Out Look'.

In 1923 the Lady Maclagon Training College for Women, the Government Institute of Dyeing and Galico Printing at Shahadara, and the Maclagon Engineering College, on the G.T.Road, started functioning.

All India Muslim League held its annual session at Lahore in 1924. Quaid-e-Azam presided over the session.

In 1925 the Irrigation Research Institute was established at Lahore. In 1926 Senate Hall, Maynard Hall and Oriental College were constructed. During this year elections for the third term of the Provincial Legislative Council were held and Dr. Allama Muhammad Iqbal was elected to the Council from Lahore.

The year 1927 saw the opening of the Hailey College of Commerce, the vacation of the Lahore Fort by the British Army, occupied since 1849, and its handing over to the Archaeological Department. Hindu-Muslim riots also occurred in this year. In 1928 damnable Rajpal published a book which shocked Muslims. In 1929, Ghazi Ilam Uddin Shaheed killed damnated (killed) him. On 7th March, 1930, the Governor of Punjab, formally opened the Punjab Dental Hospital outside Taxali Gate. In this year, the Indian National Congress launched the Civil Disobedience Movement. Some nationalist Muslims in Lahore joined the movement and counted arrests. In October, 1930 the Government executed Bhagat Singh and his fellow revolutionaries at Lahore. Their dead bodies were burnt and thrown into river Sutlej.

In 1934 De Montmorency College of Dentistry started functioning. In 1935 Rabindra Nath Tagore visited Lahore. In 1936, Lahore improvement Trust started functioning. In 1934, the Broad Casting House started operating at Lahore. This year also witnessed the Shahid Ganj Agitation and the communal riots between Muslims and Sikhs in Lahore were further strained. In 1938 the New Assembly Hall building was formally opened. Dr. Allama Muhammad Iqbal died on 21st April, 1938. In February 1940 Punjab government imposed restrictions on all non official military parades. The Khaksars decided to defy the ban and came out on the roads. On 19th March, 1940, they clashed with the police which opened fire killing many of them. Lahore remained tense and uneasy for many days. On 23rd March, 1940, the All India Muslim League held its session at Lahore and passed the Lahore (Pakistan) Resolution. In 1941 the Municipal Committee of Lahore was raised to the status of a Municipal Corporation and its limits extended.

As stated earlier, Hindus after forging lead and superiority started a prolonged struggle for final domination. In 1885 Indian National Congress under English tutelage and guidance was established. They called it a national organization and a champion of Indian nationalism. They were sure that the back bone of Muslim power had been broken and they were not in a position to dominate Hindus by nullifying their numerical strength. The Hindus had decided to maintain the status quo because they believed that when the English left India it would fall in their lap like a ripe fruit and their centuries old dream would come true. They believed that Hindus should be more organized. So, as elsewhere in Punjab, they started a religious reform movement. Soon after a society known as 'Arya Samaj' also appeared in Lahore. In the grasp of a religious reform movement it was an aggressive militant mechanism launched to convert Hinduism into missionary religion. On the one hand, Indian National Congress attracted a large number of Hindus and Muslims from Lahore to its ranks and on the other religious reform movements like 'Arya Samaj' instilled a fear of unknown in the hearts of the Muslims of Punjab. Sensible Muslims of that age read between the lines and decided to have their own political organization. They founded the All India Muslim League in 1906 and in the same year this organization appeared on the scene in Lahore.

The All India Muslim League forged a temporary wedlock with the Indian National Congress in the form of Lucknow Pact of 1916. This pact further disillusioned the supporters and followers of the Muslim League in Punjab and Indian Congress, as before started reaping a rich harvest on the political scene. The Muslim League accepted the minority status for the Muslims by agreeing the reservation of seats.

The joint Congress League programme focused ordinary Muslims and convinced others that Indian National Congress was enough for meeting all political requirements of the inhabitants of India. The harshness meted out to Turks during the First World War and post-war treatment had enranged and agitated the Muslim of India. Many Muslim notables and political workers in Lahore went behind the bars.

In 1928 Simon Commission came to India. All political parties and factions boycotted it. Lahore came to political life once again. Muslims and Hindus alike cried 'Simon go Back' and came out on the roads. During one demonstration against the simon Commission in Lahore Lala Lajpat Rai was beaten and severely mauled by the Lahore Police. He died a few months after this incident and it was generally believed that police beating was the cause of his death. In December 1928, one Assistant Superintendent of Police, Mr. Sunders was killed in Lahore. In December, 1929 the Indian National Congress held its annual session at Lahore and passed a resolution in favour of the struggle for independence. By this time, Doctor Sir Muhammad Iqbal had risen high in the ranks of All India Muslim League. His activities during his stay in Lahore had not only strengthened the All India Muslim League in Punjab but also provided it with a new direction and sense of responsibility.

In 1933 Chaudhry Rehmat Ali, a Muslim scholar in England, founded the Pakistan National Movement and established its propaganda centres all over India, including Lahore, to propagate the ideal of Pakistan.

During all these years, Lahore remained resonant with the slogans like 'We will get Pakistan' and "Pakistan Paindabad". Muslims were once again stirring and getting restive. In 1940 Lahore rose to eminence once again when the All India Muslim League held its annual session at Lahore and passed the historic Lahore (Pakistan) Resolution. It reads:

> "That it is the considered view of this session of the All India Muslim League that no constitutional plan would be workable in this country or acceptable to the Muslims unless it is designed on the following basic principles, viz. that geographically contiguous units be demarcated into regions which should be so constituted with such territorial read-justments as may be necessary that the areas in which the Muslims are numerically in a majority, as in the North Western and Eastern Zones of India, should be grouped to constitute 'Independent States' in which the constituent units shall be autonomous and sovereign."

This resolution changed the complex of the demand for Pakistan and created this impression in Muslim India that all the Muslims were united to rise as one man. It also proved to be final prick in the bubble of the nationalistic claims of the Indian National Congress. The Resolution gave All India Muslim League a strong footing in Lahore and elsewhere in Punjab. This also unnerved Hindus and Sikhs who started a systematic campaign of creating disunity among the Muslims and maligning the All India Muslim League and its leaders. On the analogy of moves made by anti-Pakistan elements in other parts of India the Hindus and Sikhs in Lahore opened up their confere and unleashed a process of political intrigues. They first tried to build up Sikandar Hayat and his lame Unionist Party and they rallied behind Khizar Hayat who was expelled by the Quaid-e-Azam from the All India Muslim League. But since the Muslims of India had decided to follow the ideal and achieve Pakistan. In the elections to the Provincial Assembly of Punjab held at the end of 1945 the Muslim League won 78 seats out of 90 reserved for the Muslims. The Hindus and Sikhs arranged the revival of the Unionist Party with a strength of 13 Muslim members in a house of 175 and then with the support of the Congress and Akali Sikhs in Lahore enabled Khizar Hayat to form a Coalition Ministry having a backing of 95 members. The Muslims in Lahore started agitation against the Khizar Ministry which soon resorted to repressive measures against the Muslims. Many League Leaders and workers were arrested by the police. The campaign thereafter increased intensity and continued at top speed for 34 days. The hide and seek between the Khizar Ministry and the Muslim League continued for almost a year.

The announcement made by the British Government to the effect that power will be transferred in some areas to the existing Provincial Government or in some such other way which may seem most reasonable compelled the Muslim League to intensify the campaign of snatching power from the Khizar Congress coalition in the Punjab. When the British Government further announced that the power would be transferred to Indians by June, 1948, at the latest, rapid development took place in Lahore and elsewhere in India. The Muslim League campaign intensified and the Sikhs started organising "Akali Fauj" while Hindus secretly alerted and reorganized the "Rashtriya Swayam Sewah Sang". Unable to face the mounting agitation Khizar Hayat tendered the resignation of his Cabinet of 2nd March, 1947. This resignation infuriated the Sikhs most. On 3rd March, 1947, Akali Leader Master Tara Singh announced to start an open fight against Muslims in Lahore. On the same day many other Sikh and Hindu leaders joined hands with the enraged Sikhs and delivered inflammatory speeches in the public meetings hurriedly arranged in and around Lahore. On 5th March, 1947 at 10.00 a.m. about 200/300 Hindus and Sikhs took out a procession and marched through Anarkali bazar raising anti Pakistan slogans and forcibly hauling down Muslim League flags from the few Muslims shops. This enraged the Muslims and they decided to use force against force. On this day in Lahore eighteen persons were killed and injured and it was a beginning of the end of peace and transquillity.

Lahore known as the 'pampered princess' of the Mughal emperors having population of about 100,000 Sikhs, 500,000 Hindus and 600,000 Muslims, laid victim of communal hatred and consequently ruthless killing was arisen. The Muslims were driven to the wall and constrained to give a swift and bloody reply in order to survive. Walled city of Lahore where at that time 300,00 Muslims, 100,00 Hindus and 104,000 Sikhs lived for decades was a place where murder stalked senseless, wanton and unjustified. To a British Police Office Lahore, in 1947 seemed "Like a city committing suicide" Out of 82,000 houses in Lahore Corporation area 6,000 were burnt.

The fires were still on, the roasted and militanted bodies of the killed were still lying about when on 18th July, 1947 the British Government passed the Indian Independence Act which provided for the creation of two independent Dominions in India on 14th August, 1947. On 17th August, 1947 A.D. Redcliffe Boundary Commission for the partition of the Punjab announced its award and Lahore became a part of Pakistan which had formally come into existence of 14th August, 1947.

1.9.2 Tribes & Races

The principal tribes of the district are Arian, Jat, Rajput, Syed, Pathan, Mughal, Sheikh, Kamboh, Moen and Gujar. The refugees from east Punjab settled in this district also belong largely to these tribes, the only addition being the Meos. Besides, there are the Mueens or village artisians also, they include Christians, Lohars (blacksmiths), Tarkhans (carpenters), Kumhars (potters), Mochis (cobblers), Machhis (water-carriers), barbers and weavers etc. These Mueens are found in all villages and are generally paid in kind at the time of each harvest. In urban areas, these people carry on their respective business as trade or industry.

i) Arain

Arains are among the oldest tribes of Lahore, tracing their origin to Aryans. For centuries they have been tilling the land and barring a few exceptions, have never owned large tracts of land. Their land holdings were individual and small, large enough to sustain their individual families. With the passage of time the sub-divisions of their holdings rendered the same un-economical and they were compiled to come out of their villages and seek fortunes in services, business and other professions. In the district their main concentration used to be in the vicinity of the upper half course of Ravi on either bank near the town of Lahore. They are still largely found in the said area. These professional traits have made them hard working, contented and humble minded.

Hundreds of Arain families from East Punjab migrated and settled in Lahore and elsewhere in Punjab. They too have same racial and ethical traits, except that they were economically less well off than their counterparts already living in this district.

ii) Jat

Before 1947, Jat used to be the strongest tribe in the district Out of these Jats, Hindus were numerically the strongest, then came Sikhs and then Muslims. The Sikh Jats because of their religion and Sikh rule over the Punjab and their marauding habits were the most dominating in the district. They were efficient agriculturists also. After the partition, all Hindu and Sikh Jats migrated to India. Muslim Jats however lived and cultivated lands in the 'Ma-jha' of Lahore and Kasur Tehsils and in some parts of the Chunian Tehsil. After the formation of Kasur district, the concentration of Jats remains in the Ma-jha of Lahore Tehsil and at present they cannot be termed as numerically the strongest in the district. Sub-divisions of their holdings have also compiled them to go for non-agricultural professions like services and business etc. Jats living along the Ravi are mostly Sindhus. A few families of Sindhus also lie in the 'hittar' areas. Similarly Gils are found in the Ma-jha of Lahore district. Bhullars and their sub castes Her and Man are also available in some scattered villages in the district. Dhillons also live in upland villages of river Ravi.

Jats have always been known for their fighting habits, discipline as soldiers, handsome features, strong physiques, thrift and hard work.

iii) Gujjar

After the advent of Aryans in the sub-continent for centuries on and their economy depended on the herds of cattle which provided them with food and fuel. During the famines the cattle used to be the only means of subsistence. As the herds grew in number the pastures became insufficient. So a class of nomads looking for new pastures came to be known as "Gau Char" which with the passage of time due to lingual perversions became Gujjar. In Punjab Gujjars settled as a tribe centuries ago but kept on confining themselves to the rearing of cattle and some slight agriculture.

At the time of partition almost all Gujars in Punjab were Muslims. They are the main force for catering to the needs of milk, curd, butter, and 'ghee. They are a hardworking, well knit and healthy tribe. Due to increase in population pressure on their means of subsistence and sparse land holdings the Gujjars are now adopting service and business as professions. They mostly live in urban areas in the district or belt around urban Lahore.

iv) Pathan

Patthans came to India with the Mongol, Turk and Afghan invaders mostly as soldiers and commanders of various detachments of the invading armies. In tenth and eleventh century A.D. the invasions of the north western and eastern part of India became more frequent, so the Pathans started settling down in the areas which fell on the generally adopted route. They established settlements all along the route between Delhi and Peshawar and their main responsibility was to secure the route for the invaders to whom they owned their allegiance.

Before partition they were not numerically prominent in the district as their main concentration in undivided Punjab was in Amritsar, Jallunder, Ferozpur and Hushiarpur districts of India and in the states where old Afghan princes still ruled as Nawabs. After partition, these Pathan families migrated to west Punjab and settled in Lahore district including Kasur and Chunian tehsils.

About half a century age they largely dependent on agriculture. They owned large tracts of land but did not till themselves. When the pressure of population increased on their holdings and sub-divisions rendered them uneconomical, they started joining professions mostly civil and armed services.

Pathans are not usually found living in villages but mostly in urban areas. Some of them are in services, holding high positions in civil and armed forces. They are industrious, loyal, short tempered, fair complexioned, well built and known for their contribution in the field of Art, Game and Administration.

v) Mughal

The Mughals live scattered in urban Lahore and are not a land owning tribe. They call themselves the lineal descendants of the Mughal emperors. They are mostly found in services and business and often use 'Mirza' as their surname.

vi) Syed

All those who trace their ethical origin to our Prophet (Peace be upon him) call themselves Syed. In this district, they form a substantial group. They are further divided (a) Sunni Syed and (b) Shia Syed. Further sub-divisions of the Syeds are sub castes like Bukhari, Gilani, Rizvi, Zaidi, Naqvi, Jillani and Qazilbash etc. They do not form an agricultural class and are usually found in services and business etc. They are not concentrated in any one area. Their strength in rural Lahore is nominal and in urban Lahore they live scattered in different localities.

vii) Sheikh

Like Mughals, Sheikhs are not many in number. They are one of the few trading classes like Khojas and others. Before partition they worked as small businessmen next in importance to Khojas. Most of the Sheikhs are the descendants of converts to Islam from other religions.

viii) Kashmiri

Ever since second half of nineteenth century and the first quarter of twentieth century migration from Kashmir into the plains of Punjab has been a regular phenomenon because of famines and repressed Dogra rule. After partition, about two lacs of Kashmiris were forced to flee their homes and hearths in a panic. They settled down where ever they found a breathing space. They, on the whole, do not form a land owning or agricultural class. They seem absorbed in services and business. They form an intelligent, fair looking, well built and hardy tribe because of the respression they have faced for centuries and the hostility of climate.

ix) Rajput

Rajputs are another conspicuous tribe after Jats. They are as competent agriculturists as Jats. Presently their largest concentration is around Niaz Beg where they still own large holdings. They also lie scattered in urban Lahore and in some villages on the other bank of Ravi. They form an industrious, well built and extra-vagant tribe fond of feasts and music.

x) Others Castes

Kambohas, Meos, Dogars and Qureshis which formed substantial groups when Kasur and Chunian tehsils were included in the district are no longer there in that form as they mostly lived in those tehsils. A few families of Kambohs, Meos, Dogars, and Qureshis are still living scattered in rural and urban areas of this district.

1.10 DRAINAGE

1.10.1 Rivers

The Ravi is only the river which flows through the district. It enters the district from Amritsar, by the village of Ichogil and after a course of about 55 kilometres leaves it on the borders of Kasur district. The Ravi is the smallest of the five rivers of the former Punjab and from the narrowness of its channel and its numerous windings is the least useful of them all for navigation purposes. Before Independence, however, deodar wood was floated down from Chamba forests (now in India) as far as Lahore. There are three bridges over the river near Lahore, one the Railway bridge and the other two for the traffic of the Grand Trunk Road and Motorway. Just above Lahore city the course of the stream is carefully directed by the Mahmud Booti Bund which keeps it to one channel and protects the city from the havoc of floods. It is said that about half a century ago, the river was unfordable at any time, hot weather or cold, but it is no longer so. Now it meets fully the calls made on it by the Bari Doab Canal. In rainy season its floods are heavy and of a very strong current. Alterations in its course are frequent and extensive. There are ferry services at Khudpur, Chung and Kariolwar.

1.10.2 Nullahs

There are no lakes or marshes in the district. The only permanent body of water is the Hudyara Rohi (Nullah) which enters the district from Amritsar District near the villages of Moujoki and Padhana (Badhana) and runs parallel to Ravi and falls into the same near village Khudpur in Lahore district. At places its channel is two to three hundred yards wide. During the monsoon season huge volume of water comes down this rohi and very often spills over its banks, causing loss to crops and other properties. In the year 1962 and 1976 because of the floods in this nullah scores of neighbouring villages were inundated and extensive damage was done to the crops and houses etc. Since it has a gentle slope, sand was not deposited on its banks.

Besides, there are 76 minor drains (Collecting drains) which connect eight major drains namely Satto Kattle drain, Mian Mir drain, Lakshami drain, Suk Nehar drain, Upper Chotta Ravi drain, Lower Chotta Ravi drain, Siddique Pura drain and Shahdara drain which ultimately fall into the river Ravi.

1.11 CULTURE

1.11.1 Food & Habits

The staple food of the city people is wheat, rice and pulses. Meat is frequently taken specially in cities. Pulses and vegetables are quite common items of diet. The chief meals are taken just before mid day and in the evening soon before sun-set, but the city folk generally have three meals-one early in the morning, the other at mid day and the third after sun set. The ordinary food of villagers consists of Roti made from flour of wheat, grams, barley, maize or jawar. In villages morning meal is usually taken with skimmed yoghourt or curd mixed with water known as Bhang or Lassi. The special dish for guests in rural areas consist of Halwa, Sewaiyan, chicken, mutton or some times beef. While in urban areas Pulao, Zarda, Biryani and Qorma are served. Tea is almost universally popular in the cities and is regularly taken at breakfast and in the evening. Villagers also take tea especially after meal.

1.11.2 Dress and Ornaments

In urban areas, semi-western dress is worn by educated people while indigenous dress is worn at home. The local dress consists of a Kurta and Shalwar. Achkan and Sherwani are worn on formal occasions. In villages, a Kurta with a Tehband, Safa or Pagri is the common dress. The women's clothes are generally more colourful. The important items of the womens clothing are Shalwar, Kamiz and Dopatta or Chaddar to cover their heads and upper part of the body. Phulkari is a silk embroidered Shawl often fancied by the rural women folk. Saree is only worn by women of the upper classes in cities on formal occasions. The common foot wear in villages is Desi Juti. Shoes are worn by those living in city while women folk wear sandals or Slippers. Purdah is not generally observed by village women except in the upper rural society. Purdah is also not strictly observed by people in towns.

1.11.3 Dwellings

In villages, houses are generally made of bricks and wood with flat roofs which are made of beams and joints of roughly hewn timber laid over with earth. Generally, the houses are single storey comprising two or three living rooms with a small courtyard. The rooms generally have a door, a window and a few ventilators. Houses built of cement, concrete or bricks belong to well to do farmers. The poor classes live in reed huts. The houses are built close together and form a compact block, approached from narrow and zigzag lanes. Almost every village has its common guest house called Taqia which combines the functions of a meeting place and a resort for rest and recreation both for the villagers and guests.

In urban areas houses are a mixture of old and modern styles of architecture. Houses are mostly built of bricks and concrete. Since Independence many new residential colonies have been built in and around Lahore city.

1.11.4 Marriage and Betrothal

Betrothal always precedes a marriage. The proposal is initiated by near relatives of the boy or girl and the women of both the sides take leading part in finalising the proposal. The wedding may take place at any time after the betrothal. Marriage between the same sections of tribe or caste is customary, but inter-marriage between people of different tribes and castes in cities and towns is becoming more frequent. The usual age of marriage for boys is 20 to 30 years and that for girls from 18 to 25 years. On the wedding day, the relatives and friends of the boy assemble and proceed in procession to the girl's house. The marriage procession is generally headed by a musical band. The marriage party is received by the relatives and friends of the parents of the girl. The party is then entertained. Thereafter the Nikah (wed-lock) ceremony is performed by the Nikah Registrar and a feast is given to the party. Alms are distributed to Fakirs (beggars) and village Mueens are fed. Then the party returns to the house of the bridegroom with the bride put in a Doli (palanquin). She stays for a couple of days and then returns to her father's house. The final bringing home of the bride is called Muklawa. In villages the dowry given to a girl by her parents is very insignificant as a rule, except when the boy and the girl are of a higher social status. In the towns the dowry is in the shape of ornaments, clothing, utensils and furniture etc.

1.11.5 Births

The birth of a male child is considered an occasion of great rejoicing and is followed by the distribution of sweets to friends and relatives who come to offer congratulations to the parents. Soon after the birth of a child, the Mullah or an elderly male member of the family recites Azan (call for Muslim prayer) into the ears of the child. Money is also given to the Mueens (village artisans) on the birth of a male child at the time of circumcision ceremony which is either performed soon after the birth or less commonly after a few years. Circumcision is performed by a barber in the villages and generally by a surgeon in towns and cities. Aqiqa ceremony is performed both for a male and a female child. One goat is sacrificed in case of a girl and two in case of a boy.

1.11.6 Deaths

On the death of a person, neighbourers, relatives and friends assemble at the house of the deceased to console the bereaved family. Just after the death, the face of the deceased is turned towards the Ka'aba and the dead-body is kept in a proper posture. The corpse is bathed, and wrapped in a coffin of new cotton sheet. Camphor and rose water are sprinkled over the body which is placed on a Charpai and those present have a last look. The dead body accompanied by the mourners is then carried to the grave-yard where Namaz-e-Janaza is offered before it is lowered into the grave. The death is mourned for three days, when Qul ceremony is performed. The women-folk mourn with great vehemence. On the 40th day, called Chaliswan, meals are served to friends, relatives and the poor.

Christians also bury their dead. Immediately after death, the local Church authorities are informed of the occurrence and bells start tolling in the Church. The dead body is washed and then dressed in the best available garments, is carried to the Church and placed there for last sight. The mourners then go past the body and either sprinkle scent or place flower wreaths on the dead body. The service for the dead is held in the Church where verses from the Bible are recited and a brief sermon delivered. The body is then taken to the grave-yard and interred.

Hindus, Buhdhists and Jain burn their dead. Funeral processions often departs from the house of the dead with musicians in the vanguard. The body is shifted to a nearby temple, if available in the vicinity, where mantra-chanting priests lead the prayer. The body is then taken to 'Ghaat' where it is placed under a pile of dried wood and burnt. Rich Hindus still use Ghee and Sandal wood to burn their dead. After the body is completly burnt and reduced to ashes the same are collected and thrown in river or tossed to the winds.

1.11.7 Fairs and Festivals

a) Mela Chiraghan

The Mela Chiraghan, i.e. Festival of Lamps, is a very important and popular event. This is celebrated in every spring on the last Friday of March outside the Shalimar Garden. The people from all walks of life gather from the province to actively participate in the festival.

b) National Horse and Cattle Show

One of the most famous annual festival, the National Horse and Cattle Show is also held in spring in the Fortress Stadium. During the week long activities there is a display of the finest live'stock, horse and camel dances, tent pegging, colourful folk dances from all regions of Pakistan, mass-band and tattoo shows in the evening.

c) Basant - Kite Flying Festival

With the advent of spring Basant Festival is celebrated with pomp and show in mid February every year in Lahore.

Alleging that kite-flying is a Hindu event is also sheer ignorance. The sport originated in China about 5000 years ago, when Hinduism was in non existent. Why single out kite-flying then, especially when it is a source of joy for the old and the young, men and women? The simple reason is that Hindu at Basant Festival fly kites for enjoying Basant. With times Muslims who were living together with Hindus in the sub-continent also join them in kite-flying. Since then Muslims are taking participation in just kite-flying at the time of Basant connotating it as Pala Urant.

Lahore is becoming the main focal point for the celebration of this festival in Pakistan. People traditionally fly kites on the roofs of their buildings.

It is commonly observed that rest houses, hotels and house of relatives of the participants are fully packed with guests from all over the country. Moreover some five star hotels also arrange this function on their roof top for foreigners and other high class gentry. They also arrange variety of dishes with musical concert.

Sometimes Lahorities on this occasion become emotional and in this state create law and order problems for the administration. Some of them use metal thread for kite-flying. Their such a deed oftenly imposes, besides life threat, a serious problem for WAPDA when the thread touches the live wires.

Inspite of the fact Basant Festival which has no links with the Muslim culture is becoming very popular and being celebrated in Lahore regularly every year with zeal and fervent.

1.11.8 Amusements and Sports

The rural and urban population differ in their cultural pattern. People in the villages rise at dawn and work in their fields till late in the evening and have little leisure time. Squatting around a Haqqa (hubble bubble) is a common pastime in villages either in the village Chauk or a Taqia, Local games like Guli-Danda (tip cat), long jump, Kabaddi etc., are played by boys, while girls play Guddi-Gudda (dolls). At night the villagers occasionally assemble to hear recitation in a loud voice and in special tone from the classic romances like Heer Waris Shah, Mirza Sahiban or Jungnama. The women-folk in villages sing and dance only on the occasions of marriage within their houses and at the time of Tarenjan (working together on their respective spinning-wheels at night) till very late in the night.Wresting is a common recreation and pastime amongst men.

In the towns and cities, the people work for fixed hours and rest thereafter. Cricket is the most popular game while hockey, football and volley-ball are also played by college and school students. Tennis is restricted to the more well-to-do people. Cards and chess are the chief indoor games.

1.12 PLACES OF INTEREST

The most important historical monuments of the Mughals in Lahore are the Royal Fort, the Badshahi Mosque, the Tombs of emperor Jehangir, empress Noor Jehan, Anarkali and Asif-Jah and the famous Shalimar Gardens.

1.12.1 Royal Fort Lahore

Although most parts of the Royal Fort were constructed around 1566 A.D by the Mughal emperor, Akbar the Great, there are some evidences that a mud fort was in existence there in 1021 A.D. as well, when Mahmood Ghazni invaded this area. Akbar demolished the old mud fort and constructed most of the modern fort on the old foundations, as we see it today. Construction of the fort dates back to the early Hindu period.

The Royal Fort is rectangular in shape. The main gates are located along side the centre of the western and eastern walls. Every succeeding Mughal emperor as well as the Sikhs, and the British in their turn added a pavilion, palace or wall to the fort. Emperor Jehangir extended the gardens and constructed the palaces that we see today in the Jehangir's Quadrangle, while Shah Jehan added Diwan-e-Khas, Moti Masjid (Pearl Mosque) and his own Sleeping Chambers. Aurangzeb built the impressive main gate which faces the Hazoori Bagh lying in between the Badshahi Mosque and the fort. The famous Sheesh Mahal or Palace of Mirrors, is in the north-east corner of the fort. This is the most beautiful palace in the fort and is decorated with small mirrors of different colours.

The part of wall of the Elephant Steps towards the fort's inner gate are scarred by bullet marks, bearing testimony to the Sikh Civil War of 1847 A.D.

A party of Sikhs had mounted their guns on one of the minarets of the mosque across the courtyard from where they fired on their opponents. The Sleeping Chamber of Mai Jindan houses a very interesting museum with relics from Mughal and the Sikh periods.

1.12.2 Shalimar Gardens

About 5 kilometres east of Lahore is the famous Shalimar Garden laid out by the Mughal emperor Shah-Jehan in 1642 A.D. The Garden is spread out in typical Mughal style and surrounded by high walls with watch-towers at the four corners. Originally, the garden was spread over seven ascending terraces, but only three remain now which cover an area of about 42 acres. The brick-work of the floors of the three terraces has been repaired according to the original designs which differ on all three terraces. There is a marble pavilion under which water flows and cascades down over a carved, marble slab creating a water-fall effect. Across the water-fall is a marble throne. At the end of the second terrace is a beautiful structure called Sawan Bhadon, a sunken tank niches on its three sides. Water cascades down from it in sheets in front of the niches, producing the sound of falling rain. In the golden times, small oil lamps were placed in the niches which reflected myriad colours through the water. Shalimar gardens have the proud privilege of being the stage of all important state receptions. Outside its walls the annual festival of Mela Chiraghan is held in March every year. Special lights on the first and second terraces of the garden have been installed and the area is illuminated half-an-hour after sun set.

1.12.3 Minar-e-Pakistan

About 59.7 metres tall monument, called Minar-e-Pakistan is situated near the Royal Fort in the spacious Iqbal Park(previously known as Minto Park), where the historic resolution for the creation of Pakistan was adopted on the 23rd March, 1940. In the memory of that historic event a monument was constructed in 1968 at the spot where the resolution was passed.

The construction of Minar-e-Pakistan was started in March, 1960 and completed in October, 1968 at the cost of Rupees 7.06 millions. The height of the Minar is 59.7 metres or 196.2 feet. The tower rises from the platform snapped like a five pointed star, enclosed by two crescent shaped pools emberacing each other. The tower is composed of ten vertical covering slabs interlaced with flower petals, glazed segment of domes with sight seeing platform and central spiral stair case having 300 steps. There is an electric lift to climb up the minar. It goes upto 50 metres high. The minar has a locally manufactured stainless dome which shines in sun light. The resolution of Pakistan has been inscribed on its walls in English, Urdu and Bengali languages. On the barrel of the minar, speeches made by Quaid-i-Azam are also written. Besides, 99 attributes of God, verses from the Holy Quran, national anthem and poems of Sir. Dr. Allama Muhammad Iqbal have also been engraved. Around the minar there are spacious parks with beautiful cyprus trees and flowers all over. There is a good lighting arrangement in the park. The total area of the minar including park is 22 acres. The marble, red and green stones of Mullagori hills and Swat have been used in the construction of the minar.

The design of Minar-e-Pakistan was prepared by a famous architect, late Nasir-Ud-Din Murad who was in fact a Russian Muslim. For his affiliations with Islam and love for the new born Islamic State of Pakistan he came and settled in Lahore. He personally carried out supervision of the construction of this monument. In recognition of his services for the Minar-e-Pakistan, the Government of Pakistan conferred upon him the honour of Tamgha-e-Imtiaz.

1.12.4 Lahore Zoo

Lahore Zoo was established in 1872 and it is one of the oldest zoo in the world. It covers an area of 24 acres and has a prime location in the capital city of the Province of Punjab. The zoo has a wide range of fauna and flora. The premises are covered by ancient trees that provide the natural environment to the animals It houses birds of different species, reptiles, small creatures and big animals. These includes lions, rhinoceros, hippopotamus, Chimpanzees, Girafas, bears, elephants, wolves, hyenas and deer etc. Stock position of species and animals is as under:

Category	Species	Number
Mammals	41	350
Birds	69	449
Reptiles	7	41
Total	117	840

1.12.5 Badshahi Mosque

The Imperial or the Badshahi Mosque is across the courtyard from Alamgiri Gate of the Royal Fort. The Mosque, which is made up entirely of red sand-stones, was built by emperor Aurangzeb in a record time of two and a half years. Its construction was completed by 1674 A.D. It has a beautiful gateway which measures 21.3 metres in length and a courtyard that measures 161.5 x 160.6 metres and is said to be the largest mosque courtyard in the world for outdoor prayers. The marble domes cover seven prayer chambers. Four loftly minarets stand at the four corners of the mosque, each with an outer circumference of 20 metres, soaring upto 54 metres. Within the mosque almost all the colours have been used for painting the floral designs but the overall effect remains one of sobriety, piousness and simplicity.

In a corridor to the main entrance of the Badshahi Masjid, twenty three relics of the Holy Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), his daughter Fatima, Hazrat Ali, Hazrat Imam Hussain, Ghous-e-Azam and Khawaja Awais Kurni are exhibited in glass caskets. These relics have been said to be brought from Demascus and Rome by Amir Taimur when he conquered these cities. Through generations, these came into the hands of Babar who brought these to India. Later on these were sold, for Rs.80,000 to Pir Muhammad and Shah Muhammad Raza by Begum Maryam Zamani of emperor Jehangir. Pir Muhammad took his share of relics to Rasulnagar (district Gujrat) from where these fell into the hands of the Sikhs when they conquered Rasulnagar. These have also been said to be taken away to Chawinda (Sialkot) by Maharaja Sher Singh. On his murder these went to Hira Singh and then to Jawaher Singh and finally were deposited in Royal Fort through Maharani Jindan. On the conquest of Punjab the British transferred these to the Muslims. Part of the relics with Shah Muhammad Raza, were purchased by Faqir Syed Nur-Ud-Din for the Muslims and were placed in the Badshahi Masjid for exhibition.

1.12.6 Wazir Khan's Mosque

In the old part of the town and off the Kashmiri Bazaar, reputedly the most beautiful mosque in the sub-continent is situated. The mosque was built in 1683 A.D. by Hakim Ilmuddin who was minister to Shah Jehan and was generally known as Wazir Khan. It is marvelous specimen of tile work and arabesque painting.

1.12.7 The Golden Mosque

Golden Mosque is also situated in the Kashmiri Bazaar. It was built in 1753 A.D. by Nawab Syed Bhikri Khan, who was Deputy Governor of Lahore. It is remarkable beautiful mosque with three golden domes.

1.12.8 Shrine of Data Ganj Bakhsh (R.A.)

Close to the confluence of the Lower Mall and the Circular Road is the shrine of Data Sahib. Data Sahib was a great Sufi (saint) whose well known work Kashf-ul-Mahjub has been translated from the original persian varsion into Urdu and other several European languages and is considered a classic. Attached to the shrine is a beautiful mosque.

1.12.9 Shrine of Miran Shah

Mirza Shah Hussain Zanjani, popularly known as Miran Shah was an Iranian saint who traveled widely in search of learning and finally settled down in Lahore to propagate Islam. He left in his spiritual lineage no less a celebrity than Khawaja Mueen-Ud-Din Chishti of Ajmer, who passed a fairly long period in seclusion and mediation at this tomb and it was here that he saw the divine light. The mausoleum of the saint is situated at the far end of Misri Shah. He was amongst the most celebrated saints of this sub-continent and was born in the fifth century. A.H. at Zanjan, a village in Iran. He came primarily for sight seeing, but an urge to spread Islam asserted himself and he spent the rest of his life in Lahore.

1.12.10 Allama Iqbal's Tomb

Outside the Badshahi Mosque, near its steps, lies the tomb of Sir. Dr. Allama Muhammad Iqbal, the poet and philosopher of the East. The mausoleum is a mixture of Afghan and Morrish styles of architecture and is constructed entirely of red sandstones which were quarried and brought from Rajastan.

1.12.11 Mausoleum of Emperor Jehangir

The tomb of the fourth great Mughal emperor Jehangir, lies five kilometres north-west of Lahore across the river Ravi. It has a majestic structure made of red sand-stones and marble. The outer entrance to the tomb opens out into a courtyard which was used as a carvan Serai (inn) during Mughal times. An entrance to the right leads into a Mughal garden with exact geometrical pattern balancing each side. The marble tomb is approached from four corridors leading from the garden. Three of these corridors are closed by intricate marble screens. The marble grave is elaborately inlaid with floral designs and the 99 attributes of God are inscribed on its two sides and on the top is a verse from the Holy Quran. The tomb was built by queen Noor Jehan and the emperor Shah Jehan around 1637 A.D.

1.12.12 Nur Jehan's Tomb

The empress Nur Jehan, Light of the world was the only empress whose name appeared on the coins of the Mughal empire She was bu ied in 1645 A.D. at Shahdara-Lahore outside Jehangir's mausoleum across the railway line. Her tomb once had a marble cenotaph which she had built herself during her life time. After the decline of Mughal rule, the tomb suffered extensive damages along with her husband's tomb at the hands of Sikh marauders when they gained power during the early part of nineteenth century. Both were stripped of most of its original beauty and splendour. All treasures and tiles, it is said, were carted off to decorate the Golden Temple at Amritsar, India.

1.12.13 Asif Khan's Mausoleum

In the courtyard near Jehangir tomb lies buried his brother-in-law, Asif Khan, father of Shah Jehan's beloved Queen Arjumand Bano. He lies in a tomb which today shows little of its former splendour.

1.12.14 Anarkali's Tomb

The tomb of Nadira Begum alias Anarkali (pomegranate blossom), is situated in a corner of the Civil Secretariat of Punjab government at Lahore. The tomb is circular in shape and rooted with a vast and lofty dome supported from inside by eight massive arches 3.7 metres thick. It is a master piece of solid masonry work of early Mughal period and is neatly and beautifully fitted up.

1.12.15 Qutbuddin Aibak's Tomb

He was appointed governor of India in 1191 A.D. by Muhammad Ghauri. He established the Slave dynasty on the death of Muhammad Ghauri in 1206 A.D. when he assumed independence of his reign and was followed by nine other slave kings. He was a patron of the building art and is known to have erected some monumental stone buildings in Delhi and elsewhere. A very avid player of polo, he died in Lahore in 1210 A.D. while playing the game. His tomb can be visited in Anarkali Bazaar.

1.12.16 Samadhi of Maharaja Ranjit Singh

The ashes of the great Sikh ruler of Punjab, Maharaja Ranjit Singh, and of his four wives and several slave girls lie in a dome adjacent to the Hazoori Bagh.

Other monuments include the Dai Anga Mosque, Mariam Zamani Mosque and various shrines of Muslims Sufi scholars and saints and the tomb of Sir. Dr. Allama Muhammad Iqbal near Badshahi Mosque.

1.12.17 Lahore Museum

Opposite the old University Hall, a Mughal style building on the Shahrah-e-Quaid-e-Azam, houses the Lahore Museum. The Museum contains some fine specimens of Mughal and Sikh door-ways and wood work and has a big collection of paintings dating back to Indo-Pakistan, Mughal, Sikh and British times. It has also a collection of musical instruments, ancient jewellery, textile, pottery and armoury. There are also relics from the Graeco-Pactrian times as well as some Tibetan and Nepalese exhibits.

1.12.18 Faqirkhana Museum

A very large and interesting private museum known as Faqirkhana lies inside the Bhati Gate and is worth visiting. The museum houses a variety of old paintings, including some by great masters, original manuscripts in different languages and artifacts from South East Asia and the Indo-Pak sub-continent.

1.12.19 Anarkali Bazaar

Anarkali (pomegranate blossom) bazaar is the most fascinating of the city's many Bazars. The alleys and lanes of this Bazar are full of exciting wares, especially traditional crafts like leather ware, embroidered garments, glass bangles, beaten gold and silver jewellery, creations in silk anything that you wish for a bargain. It is named after the famous courtesan of Akbar's court called Anarkali. Anarkali too has its share of historical monuments.

1.12.20 The Walled City

The Walled City is located to the south of the river Ravi that once flowed along the walls of Royal Fort. In the past, access to the walled city was possible only through one of its imposing gates that date back to the days of Akbar the Great who held his court in Lahore for fourteen years. Twelve gates were built under his orders. Starting from Badshahi Mosque and moving in anticlock-wise direction upto Royal Fort these gates were:

i) Taxali	v) Shahalami	ix) Yakki
ii) Bhati	vi) Moochi	x) Sheranwala
iii) Moori	vii) Akbari	xi) Kashmiri
iv) Lohari	viii) Delhi	xii) Masti

Only six of these historic gates of Lahore remain today. Till the days of Ranjit Singh, the Sikh ruler of Punjab, these gates were closed at night. The wall around old city was falling into decay when Ranjit Singh rebuilt it in 1812 A.D. He also surrounded it with a moat that was earth filled during the British period and fine gardens were laid out there. The picturesque Bazars of the walled city, its narrow streets, its old houses and its incredible din fascinate the visitor. Wazir Khan's mosque of the Mughal period remains almost the only witness to the past splendour of the Old City.

1.12.21 Jallo Park

The Park is 28 kilometres from Lahore. It can be visited by road and by rail. A rail-car leaves for Jallo railway station after every half an hour. Spread over an area of 450 acres, it has expanses of lawns, a forest research centre, a children's park, zoo, small museum and gift shop.

1.12.22 The Alhamra Art Council

The Alhamra Arts Council is a relatively modern building, but keeping in view the architectural heritage of Lahore, red bricks and time mortar have been used for its construction so that it may harmonize with other important buildings such as the Museum, Aitchison College, High Court and University of the Panjab (Old Campus). The design of the building is very simple, yet it has its own style and strength. Alhamra serves as a center of education for music and related arts and has three of the most modern theater halls in Pakistan, which also offer facilities in the fields f lighting, ac ust'c recording and audio-visual presenta tion. It is, today, the heart-throb of all cultural activities in Lahore

1.12.23 Shakir Ali Museum

Shakir Ali the famous modern art painter and one time principal of National College of Arts donated his house at the time of his death for establishing a center for supporting art related activities. It is also the permanent art gallery of his work and is known as the Shakir Ali Museum.

1.12.24 Chughtai Art Gallery

Rehman Chughtai the world known oriental painter also belonged to Lahore. His works are permanently at display in the Chughtai Art Gallery in Lahore.

1.12.25 Lahore High Court

Situated on the Shahra-e-Quide-Azam, between the General Post Office and new building of State Bank of Pakistan, it was constructed in 1889 A.D. in the Indo-Sarcenic style. The original structure is in the form of a quadrangle built of solid bricks in lime mortar with all moldings, cornices and projection of specially molded bricks, and arch fillings and verandahs on all the sides. The building is topped with four towers. In this premises are located the offices of the Lahore High Court, Advocate General Office, a Bar Room and a L'brary New blocks have recently been added to the building.

1.12 26 Assembly Chambers

It is located on the Faisal Chowk (Chairing Cross) in between the WAPDA House and the Al-Falah Building. The first Legislative Assembly of Punjab under Government of India Act 1935 was constituted in 1937. The Assembly Chambers was constructed in 1938. The building is of typical western style. It has access to its interior from three main house gates. The building comprises two floors, each housing 24 rooms with wide verandah around. The press gallery is just above the Speaker's seat. The building also houses the staff, the Speaker, Deputy Speaker, Chief Minister and Ministers offices whenever the Assembly is in session. There is a tea room, prayer room, committee room and a library. It was formerly opened in 1938.

1.12.27 National College of Arts

Located on the Shahra-e-Quide-Azam and adjacent to the Lahore Museum in front of Istanbul Chowk and the Zamzama Gun, the British government established the Mayo School of Arts in 1875. The school was one of its kind in the sub-continent. In 1958, the school was upgraded as college and given the name as National College of Arts and handed over to the federal government. It has four different departments like fine arts, design, architecture and academic.

1.12.28 Town Hall

It is located on the Shahra-e-Quide-Azam (Mall road) on a point where it meets the Lower Mall road. Sir Charles Aitchison laid its foundation stone in 1887 and name was given Jubilee Town Hall. The formal inauguration took place in 1890 by Prince Albert Victor. It is a double storied building. The hall is on the upper storey. The floor is laid with teak planks. It is venue of civil functions, seminars and public address. It is under the control of Lahore Metropolitan Corporation.

1.12.29 Governor House

It is located on the Shahra-e-Quide-Azam opposite the Bagh-e-Jinnah. It was a private house of Khushal Singh and later on acquired by the British. The adoption and reconstruction was completed in 1853. Maj. Macgregor, the then Deputy Commissioner of Lahore, was the first official occupant and later on it was converted into the official residence of Lt. Governor of Punjab. During the last fifty years, it is used as the residence of the Governor of Punjab. One wing of the premises is reserved as Guest House. It has a Darbar Hall, Dining Room, Hillocks and a swimming pool.

1.12.30 The Zamzama

In front of the entrance to this building there stands on raised platform two old Sikh canons while the famous gun Zamzama, known by the Sikhs as the Tope Bhangian is placed in front of the University Hall in the middle of the Shahra-e-Quide-Azam. This gun is the largest specimen of casting in the sub-continent and was made in A.D. 1761 by Shah Wali Khan, Wazir of Ahmad Shah Durrani, who used it in the battle of Panipat. After the departure of Ahmad Shah, the gun was left in the possession of the Sikh Sardars of the Bhangi Misl (whence its name Bhangianwali Tope) and came to be regarded by them as a talisman of supremacy. Ranjit Singh eventually possessed himself of it and it was employed by him at the siege of Multan in A.D. 1818. From that date until removal in 1860 A.D., it was placed at the Delhi gate of the city of Lahore. The inscription on the gun opens as follows:

"By order of the emperor (Ahmad Shah) Dur-i-Duran Shah Wali Khan the Wazir made this gun named Zamzama, the taker of strongholds."

1.12.31 The Chauburji

At the end of the old Mall (Lower Mall) on the right hand side of the Multan road is a fine gate way, commonly called the Chauburji for its four minarets, once the entrance into the garden of Zeb-un-Nisa a learned daughter of Aurangzeb, who in her shady retreat on the banks of the Ravi composed a volume of mystical poems, which are still read and admired, known as Diwan-e-Makhfi. It has now only three minarets left, and is a protected monument.

1.13.3 Police System

For police administration, Lahore district is divided into four Divisions, each headed by one Superintendent of Police under the overall Supervision/control of a Senior Superintendent of Police. The District has 4 Police Divisions and 22 Sub-Divisions out of which 4 are headed by District Superintendent of Police and 4 by Assistant Superintendent of Police.

As a whole there are 75 police stations in the district having the following staff strength:

Inspectors	209
Sub-Inspectors	518
Assistant Sub-Inspectors	1,001
Head Constables	1,383
Constables	12,264

Further, to counter with terrorist's activities and maintain law and order in the district, following types of police forces have been established:

Elite Force

This force is comprised the staff strength of 8 Inspectors, 6 Sub- Inspectors, 8 Assistant Sub Inspectors and 119 Constables.

Emergency Police Squad

It consists of the staff strength of 3 Inspectors, 9 Sub-Inspectors, 129 Assistant Sub Inspectors and 787 Constables.

Mujjahid Squad (Pick Up)

There are 65 Pick-ups that remain on mobile 24 hours a day alongwith at least one Assistant Sub Inspector and three constables.

Eagle Squad (Car)

It consists of 36 cars alongwith at least one Assistant Sub-Inspector and one constable with each car remain on mobile for the whole day.

Tiger Squard

This squad consists of 300 motor cycles with two constables on each motor cycle. These squads keep moving in the District Lahore almost round the clock.

Trafic police administration is vested in the superintendent of police (Trafic) who is assisted by 5 Deputy Superintendents of Police, 44 Inspectors and 142 Assistant Sub Inspectors with staff strength of 176 Head Constables and 946 Constables in the district.

1.14 AGRICULTURE AND RELATED SECTOR

1.14.1 Cropping Pattern

Area and production of some major crops are shown in the following table:

TABLE 1.2 IMPORTANT RABI CASH CROPS BY AREA, PRODUCTION AND YIELD, 1996-97

Crops	Area (in Hec)	Production (in 000's tonnes)	Yield (Kgs/Hec)
Wheat	50.6	125.4	2,478
Barley	0.1	0.1	1,000
Tobacco	531.0	551	1,037
Mung	2.0	1.0	500
Masoor	16.0	9.0	562
Peas	489.0	403.0	824
Rape-seed	0.2	0.2	1,000
Sesamum	32.0	15.0	468

After demerger of Kasur and Chunian Tehsils the agrarian profile of Lahore district has changed altogether. It is now more industrial than before. In Rabi cash crops tobacco, Mutter(peas), wheat and sesamum comprise 531, 489, 51 and 32 thousand hectares respectively yielding 1037, 824, 2478 and 468 kilometres per hectare. It is important to note that wheat crop is producing more yield with smaller area in the district when compared with many other districts due to suitable soil conditions. Mung, Barley, Masoor and Rape-seed seemed to be less cultivated as compared to the other crops.

TABLE 1.3 IMPORTANT KHARIF CASH CROPS BY AREA, PRODUCTION AND YIELD 1996-97

Crops	Area (003 hec)	Production (in 000's tons)	Yield (Kgs/hec)
Cotton	0.40	0.4	1000
Cotton(Desi)	14.0	10.0	714
Pulses	20.0	13.0	650
Sugarcane	1.6	61.2	38250
Rice	32.8	36.5	1112
Maize	5.0	7.2	1440
Bajra	0.1	0.1	1000
Jawar	0.2	0.2	1000

The Kharif cash crops are also grown in the Lahore district. In this context higher area for rice, pulses, cotton, maize and sugar-cane attain 33, 20, 14, 5 and 1.6 hectares respectively. The highest yield produced is of sugarcane, maize as 38,250 and 1,440 kilograms per hectare irrespective to the fact that the cultivated area is lesser as compared to other Kharif crops. Moreover the Bajra, Jawar, cotton and pulses shows the similar pattern of yield production.

1.14.2 Horticulture

a) Vegetables

The vegetables are grown in abundance as the water and soil are suitable for cultivation. The potato, carrot, lady finger, chillies, onion and cauliflower are grown on 4131,601,259,254,250 and 220 hectares respectively with the yield 10,852, 19,828, 11,069, 1,381, 9,688, and 24,040 kg/hectares. The production of coriander is very prominent in Lahore. Bitter gourd, turmeric and garlic are grown to meet the public demand.

b) Fruits

Important fruits by area, production and yield for the year 1996-97 are given in the following statement:

A variety of fruits is also grown in the irrigated areas of Lahore. The major fruits comprise citrus, guava, mango, and water/musk melons which are grown on 1,691, 1,008, 506 and 129 hectares of land. Dates are also grown but on quite a small area due to unsuitable climate. Water/musk melons are mostly grown around the river bank containing alluvial soil which is suitable for its growth. That is why yield per hectare is very high i.e. 19,325 kg per hectare. Mango, citrus and guava also have good yield as 10,142, 8,856 and 8,092 kilogrammes per hectare respectively.

TABLE 1.5 IMPORTANT FRUITS BY THEIR AREA, PRODUCTION AND YIELD 1996-97

Fruit	Area (003 hec)	Production (in 000's tons)	Yield (Kgs/hec)

Dates	2	14	7,000

1.14.3 Live'stock

Buffalo, cow, bullock, donkey, horse, sheep and goat are the common animals found in the district. Poultry birds are also reared on commercial scale.

1.14.4 Irrigation

The Bambanwala-Ravi-Badian (BRB) link rises from the Ravi river in the north of the district. It supplies water for irrigation to the agricultural lands of Dokri, Jallo, Barki, Heer, Jahman, etc. and flowing along the southern border of the district ends in Tehsil Chunian of Kasur district. A branch of this canal known as Lahore border of Upper Bari Doab Canal takes off near Jallo and irrigating lands of Mughalpura, Walton, Panjab University New Campus, Model Town, Thokar Niaz Beg and Monga ends in Chunian Tehsil. Irrigation is also done by wells and tube-wells.

1.15 COMMUNICATIONS

Lahore is linked with the rest of the country by air, rail and road. It lies on the Grand Trunk road or the Shahrah-e-Azam, which connects Kabul with Calcutta. The road was originally built by the Afghan ruler Sher Shah Suri in the 16th century.

1.15.1 Roads

There is a complete network of roads in the district. All major villages are connected with the district headquarters through metalled roads. In the history of Pakistan first 4 lanes Motorway has been constructed from Lahore to Islamabad keeping in view big high traffic pressure on G.T. road. It also provides modern facility to the passengers at International standards.

1.15.2 Railways

The main Karachi-Peshawar railway line passes through the district. It enters from its south near Raiwind and passing through Shahdara in the north leaves for Gujranwala. From Lahore Railway Station, a railway line goes upto Wahga at Pakistan-India border and then across the border to Amritsar in India. From Shahdra Railway Junction, two railway lines take off, one goes to Sheikhupura and the other to Narowal.

1.15.3 Airs

For air traffic, there is a beautiful modern International airport at Lahore. PIA and other air companies operate regular flights from Lahore to other parts of the country as well as on international routes. Air traffic between India and Pakistan also operates from this airport.

1.15.4 Postal Services

There are 267 Post Offices in the district.

1.16 EDUCATION

Lahore is an old first class seat of learning in Pakistan. The world famous and the oldest university of Pakistan i.e. University of the Panjab is located in this city. The pioneering University of Engineering and Technology is also in Lahore. There has been a significant development in the educational sector of this district. University of the Panjab has been extended and its new campus is constructed along the Lahore branch of Upper Bari Doab canal. This provides an ideal environment for teachers and taughts in the green lush area surrounded by New Muslim Town, Wahdat Colony, PCSIR Colony, Faisal Town and Garden Town. There are also a number of government and private schools, colleges and technical institutes. Lahore is, therefore, rightly been called, by Pitras Bukhari an eminent scholar, the city of colleges and schools. Most of the colleges have boarding houses for their students who hail from interior Punjab and other parts of the country. Moreover the study of Business Management, Commerce and Computer Technology is becoming very popular for the decade.

Number of educational institutions and their enrolment 1997-98 is given in the table below:

TABLE 1.16 EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS BY LEVEL OF EDUCATION, 1997-98

Main medical collages are the King Edward Medical College, the Allama Iqbal Medical College and the Fatima Jinnah Medical College. The King Edward Medical College is the oldest medical college. These are producing doctors and other paramedical staff for numerous hospitals and dispensaries.

1.17 INDUSTRY, TRADE AND TRADE CENTRES

1.17.1 Industries

After Karachi, Lahore is the biggest industrial area in Pakistan. There has been a steady expansion of industries in and around Lahore since independence.

There are many large industrial units in the district. These units manufacture cotton, woolen and silk cloths, carpets and rugs, textile products, lather and rubber footwears, wearing apparel, pharamacutical goods, soap, iron and steel products, heating, plumbing and lighting equipment, hardware, miscellaneous fabricated products, agriculture machinery, engines and turbines, textile machinery, printing machinery, metal working machinery, pumps and compressors, household machinery, water generators, motor generators, transformers, electric fans, communication equipment, cycles and rickshaws. There are also a good number of printing and publishing units and body building workshops. Besides, there are units of canning and preservation of food, edible oils, beverages, metal and wood furniture, rubber products, chemicals, glass products, repair of railway equipment, toys, stationery etc.

1.17.2 Trade and Trade Centres

Lahore is the biggest trade centre in Punjab which exports and imports a sizable quantity of different types of goods. Its major industrial items of trade include electrical fans, motors, transformers and electrical goods, rubber and its products, bicycles and autocycles, food products, beverages, body buildings, handicrafts, leather shoes, printing and publishing chemicals, photo goods and cinema films. Besides, it trades in agriculture produce and dry fruits.

1.18 HEALTH

Ample medical and health facilities are available in the Lahore Metropolitan Corporation area and its suburbs. Shaukat Khanum Hospital is the latest addition in the medical care facilities in Lahore for the most dangerous disease in the country i.e. cancer. There are also other hospitals of voluntary organizations which provide health cover to the general public. King Zaid Bin Sultan Hospital is also a very advanced addition in the medical care for Lahore. Among the prominent hospitals are General Hospital, Lady Aitchison Hospital, Lady Wilingdon Hospital, Mayo Hospital, Fatima Jinnah Hospital, Services Hospital, Gulab Devi Hospital, Ganga Ram Hospital, Shalimar Hospital, Combined Military Hospital and Itefaq Hospital. Besides, a number of private medical practitioners, Hakims and Homeopathic doctors are also practicing in the city.

Number of various health units alongwith their bed capacity for the 1998 are given below:

BROAD ANALYSIS OF POPULATION CENSUS DATA

2 BROAD ANALYSIS OF POPULATION DATA

2.1 POPULATION SIZE, GROWTH AND DISTRIBUTION

2.1.1 Population Size and Growth

The total population of Lahore district was 6,318,745 as enumerated in March, 1998 with an intercensal percentage increase of 78.3 since March, 1981 when it was 3,544,942 souls. The average annual growth rate was 3.5 per cent during this period. The total area of district is 1,772 square kilometres which gives population density of 3,566 persons per square kilometre as against 2,000 persons observed in 1981 indicating a fast growth rate of the district.

The following table gives population, its intercensal increase and average annual growth rate since 1951:

TABLE 2.1 POPULATION AND INTERCENSAL INCREASE AND GROWTH RATES SINCE 1951

Description	1951	1961	1972	1981	1998

2.2 SEX, AGE AND MARITAL STATUS

2.2.1 Sex Ratio

Sex ratio, i.e. number of males for every 100 females was 111 per cent recorded in 1998 Census which had decreased from 115 in 1981. The ratio was 112 per cent in rural and 111 in urban area.

2.2.2 Age Structure

In 1998 the proportion of the infants under one year was 2.2 per cent, children under 5, 12.6 per cent, children under 10 year 26.1 per cent, under 15 year 39.2 per cent of the total population. Those eligible for obtaining National Identity Card (i.e. over 18 years) represented 54.3 per cent while those eligible for casting vote (i e. 21 years and above) were 46.6 per cent of the total population. The proportion of population of working age groups i.e. 15 to 64 years, were recorded as 57.5 per cent and over 65 year 3.2 per cent resulting age dependency ratio of 73.8 per cent. Women of reproduction ages i.e. 15 -49 years, were 49.6 per cent of their total population.

The proportion of infants and children under 15 years and population 65 and over were higher in rural areas when compared to population living in towns, resulting high dependency ratio in the former than in the latter areas representing 93.2 and 70.2 per cent respectively. The following table gives percentage of population by selective age groups, sex, urban and rural areas with more detail.

TABLE 2.5 POPULATION PERCENTAGE DISTRIBUTION BY SELECTIVE AGE GROUPS, SEX, AND RURAL/URBAN AREAS, 1998

As envisaged from age pyramid the population of Lahore district is still very young having broad base implying thereby sustaining of fertility at a very high level However comparison of age data with the 1981 Census indicates that fertility has started declining resulting reduction in percentage share of children under 5 though the effect of shifting of ages of children under 5, due to misreporting, can not be ruled out. The proportionate share of population declined gradually with advancing in ages and taper off to a narrow peak at age 75 and over.

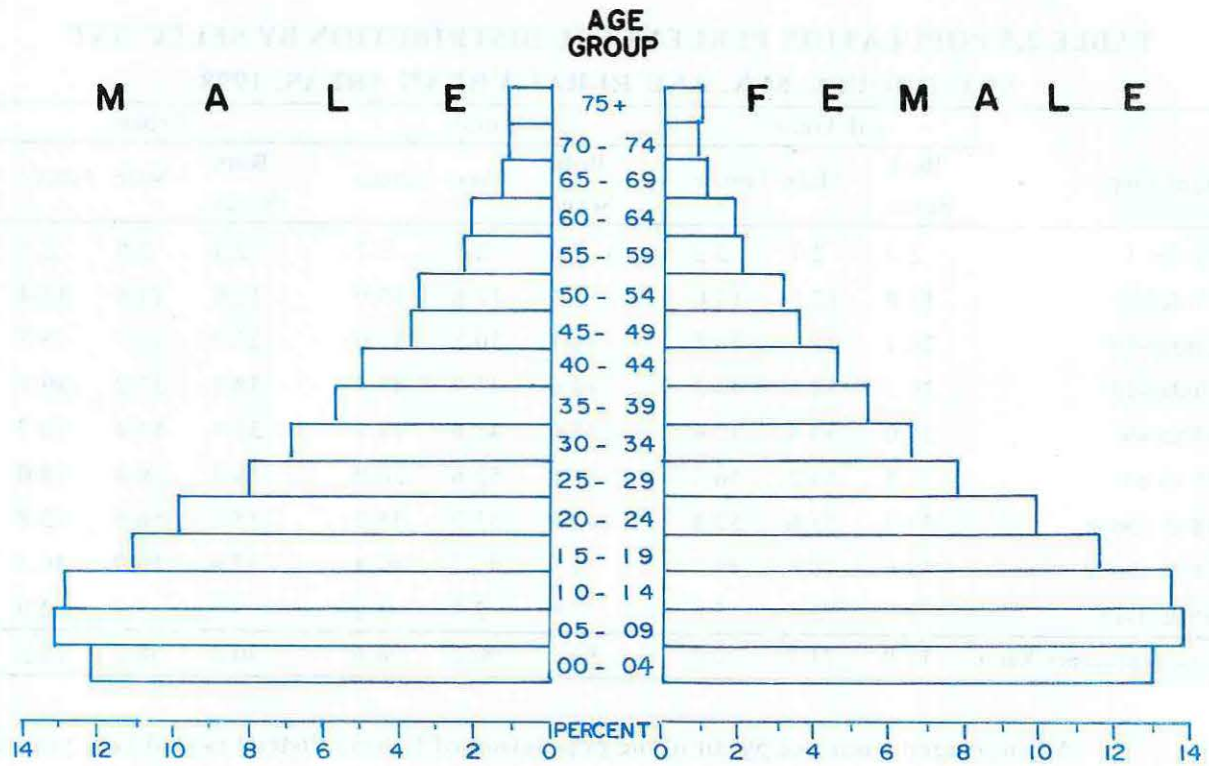
POPULATION PYRAMID-1998



2.2.3 Marital Status

The population 15 years and above as enumerated in 1998 Census was further classified into never married, married, widowed and divorced. Of that population 36.2 per cent were never married, 58.6 per cent married, 4.9 per cent widowed and 0.3 per cent divorced. The percentage share of never married male was much higher than the female, being 41.3 and 30.3 per cent respectively. The percentage of never married females was higher in urban than in rural areas implying thereby that fertility must be at lower level in the former than the latter area. Table 2.6 gives details about percentage of population 15 years and above by marital status, sex and rural and urban residence, 1998.

TABLE 2.6 POPULATION PERCENTAGE DISTRIBUTION BY MARITAL STATUS, SEX AND RURAL/URBAN AREAS, 1998

Area	Never Married			Married			Widowed			Divorced
	Both Sexes	Male	Female	Both Sexes	Male	Female	Both Sexes	Male	Female	Both Sexes	Male	Female
All Areas	36.2	41.3	30.3	58.6	55.5	62.1	4.9	2.9	7.2	0.3	0.2	0.4
Rural	31.5	36.8	25.4	63.2	59.3	67.6	5.1	3.7	6.7	0.2	0.2	0.3
Urban	37.1	42.2	31.2	57.7	54.8	61.1	4.9	2.8	7.3	0.3	0.2	0.4

The proportion of never married females has drastically increased since 1981 when it was 24.2 per cent. The increasing proportion is an indication of decline in fertility level which was sustaining at very high level for a long period.

2.2.4 Female of Reproductive Ages by Marital Status

Of the total females population 49.6 per cent are in reproductive ages i.e. 15-49 with slightly more percentage in urban than in rural areas, being 50.7 and 44.4 per cent respectively. As compared to 49.6 per cent of females of reproductive ages as registered in 1998 there were 45.7 per cent in 1981.

Among the females of reproductive ages 35.7 per cent were never married, 61.8 per cent currently married, 2.1 per cent widowed and 0.4 per cent divorced. About 6.7 per cent of ever married females of reproductive ages had no child, 9.7 per cent one child, 12.4 per cent two children, 13.7 per cent three children while 57.5 per cent had more than three children. The proportion of never married females of reproductive ages were high in urban as compared to rural areas.

2.3 LITERACY AND EDUCATIONAL ATTAINMENT

2.3.1 Literacy

A person was treated as literate in 1998 Census if he could read a newspaper or a journal of same standard and could write a simple letter in any language. The literacy is measured as the ratio, in percentage, of literate population to corresponding population aged 10 and over. The literacy ratio in the district has increased from 48.4 per cent in 1981, to 64.7 per cent in 1998. The literacy ratio for males is 69.1 per cent as against 59.7 per cent for females. The ratio is much higher in urban when compared with rural areas both for male and female. Table 2.7 shows literacy ratio by rural and urban areas for the year 1981 and 1998.

TABLE 2.7 LITERACY RATIO BY SEX AND RURAL/URBAN AREAS, 1981 AND 1998

Area	1981			1998
	Both Sexes	Male	Female	Both Sexes	Male	Female

Rural	20.2	28.4	10.5	41.7	50.4	31.7
Urban	53.4	59.3	46.4	69.1	72.7	65.1

2.3.2 Educational Attainment

The percentage of educated persons, like literacy ratio, has also increased with almost similar pattern but with slightly lower level than level of literacy. Table 2.8 provides some facts by sex in urban and rural areas from the 1998 Census.

TABLE 2.8 EDUCATED PERSONS BY SEX AND RURAL/URBAN AREAS, 1998

All Areas	64.2	68.7	59.2
Rural	41.3	50.0	31.3
Urban	68.7	72.4	64.6

2.3.3 Enrolment Ratio

Enrolment ratio is the proportion, in percentage, of students in population aged 5 to 24. The ratio was 50.7 per cent as measured from 1998 Census data with significant rural urban differential both for males and females. The remarkable differential is between females whose enrolment ratio in urban areas was registered as 53.0 per cent as against their ratio of 34.3 per cent in rural areas, and 51.6 per cent of male ratio in the district as a whole. Table 2.9 provides details by sex in urban and rural areas from the 1998 Census.

All Areas	50.7	51.6	49.7
Rural	37.8	41.1	34.3
Urban	53.5	53.9	53.0

2.3.4 Level of Education

Of the total educated persons 12.6 per cent were below primary, 23.2 per cent had passed primary, 22.5 per cent middle, 18.2 per cent matriculate, 9.3 per cent intermediate, 7.2 per cent graduates, 2.6 per cent post graduates while 0.6 per cent were diploma/certificate holders. Regarding sex differential males were more educated and had higher education than females. In urban areas of the district there were more than 295 thousand graduates while in rural areas the level of education tapered off sharply with higher level of education and hardly 16 thousand were found with graduate degree.

2.4 MIGRATION

The total number of life time in-migrants in Lahore district were 1,034,848 or 16.4 per cent of population of the district. Of total life time in-migrants 890,427 persons settled in the towns. Of total district migrants 71.7 per cent came from other districts of Punjab, 10.1 per cent were from Sindh, NWFP and Balochistan, 1.3 per cent from Azad Kashmir and Northern Areas while remaining 16.9 per cent were Pakistanis who repatriated from other countries. There are only eleven migrants whose birth place was not reported. Table 2.6 throws light on life time in-migrants with their decomposition by place of origin, and place of settlement in rural and urban areas of the district.

2.5 ECONOMIC CHARACTERISTICS

2.5.1 Economically Active Population

The economically active population is defined here as the persons working, most of the time during the year preceding the census date i.e. 5th March, 1998, looking for work, laid off and un-paid family helpers assisting their family. The economically active population as enumerated in the last census was 21.8 per cent of the total population or 29.5 per cent of the population 10 years and over i.e. the population exposed to the risk of entering the economically active life at any time. The formal percentage is known as Crude Activity Rate (CAR) while the latter is known as Refined Activity Rate (RAR). Of the total male population 39.9 per cent were economically active, while 60.1 per cent inactive, 25.4 per cent children under 10 years, 18.0 per cent students, 1.9 per cent domestic workers while 14.8 per cent were land lords, property owners, retired persons, disabled etc. The participation rate is much higher in urban areas as compared to people living in rural areas. Further details can be seen in Table 2.11 given below:

TABLE 2.11 PERCENTAGE OF POPULATION BY ECONOMIC CATEGORIES, SEX AND RURAL/URBAN AREAS, 1998

Unemployment Rate	20.7	21.4	2.2	21.5	22.1	1.2	20.5	21.2	2.4

2.5.2 Unemployment

Unemployment rate is measured as ratio of looking for work and laid off in total economically active population comprising employed, looking for work, laid off and un-paid family helpers, generally representing in percentage. The unemployment rate in the district was 20.7 per cent which was mainly due to unemployment amongst male representing 21.4 per cent. While female unemployment rate was just 2.2 per cent. This is because of their small proportion in their total economically active population. The unemployment rate is higher in rural as compared to urban areas representing 21.5 and 20.5 per cent respectively. The details can be seen in Table 2.11.

2.5.3 Employed Population by Occupation

In 1998 of the total employed persons, 44.7 per cent had elementary occupations, followed by service workers and shop and market sales workers, 17.5 per cent, and professional, 9.2 per cent. In rural areas people having elementary occupations were again in majority, followed by skilled agricultural and fishery works and service workers and shop and market sales workers, represented 52.5, 23.7 and 8.4 per cent respectively. The highest percentage in urban area is of elementary occupations too, followed by service workers and shop and market sales workers and craft and related trade workers and having 43.2, 19.3 and 9.1 per cent respectively. Further details are given in Table 2.12.

2.5.4 Employed Population by Industries

In 1998 majority of employed persons was working in construction industries, followed by community, social and personal services industries, and whole sale and retail trade and restaurants and hotels representing 30.0, 17.1 and 15.6 per cent respectively. In rural areas 22.9 per cent were working in agriculture, forestry, hunting and fishing industries, 40.8 per cent in construction industries and 9.5 per cent in community, social and personal services industries. While in urban area majority was working in construction industries, 27.8 per cent followed by community, social and personal services, 18.6 per cent, and wholesale and retail trade and restaurants and hotels industries, 17.0 per cent. Detailed data are shown in Table 2.13.

2.5.5 Employment Status

Of the total economically active population 98.9 per cent were registered as employed in 1998. Nearly 52.6 per cent were self employed, 27.1 per cent private employees and 14.4 per cent government employees. Un-paid family helpers were recorded as 1.1 per cent. The difference in proportions of employed population were significant between the genders and urban and rural residences. The details can be seen in the table given below:

2.6 IMMUNIZATION

To evaluate vaccination programme the question about immunization of children under 10 years against 6 fatal diseases i.e. tuberculosis, diphtheria, pertussis, tetanus, polio and measles was first time enquired through the 1998 Census. As reported in the census nearly 12.9 lacs children were vaccinated representing 78.1 per cent of the total children under 10 years, 3.6 had not been vaccinated while nothing was known about 18.3 per cent children. Slightly better position for vaccination was reported in rural areas where incidence of vaccinated children was 78.2 per cent as compared to 78.1 per cent in urban areas. Also slightly better rate of vaccination was observed for male children than female children. For further details data in Table 2.15 can be seen.

2.7 NATIONAL IDENTITY CARD

This question was also asked through the 1998 Census for the first time for evaluating National Registration Scheme introduced in 1973. Of population 18 years and above 68.7 per cent had obtained National Identity Cards and 31.3 had yet to obtain such cards. Male percentage is quite higher as compared to female for obtaining National Identity Card. Their percentage shares were 77.7 and 58.1 per cent respectively. Urban and rural differential was also reported in obtaining National Identity Cards. Over 70 per cent of people in the cities had obtained National Identity Cards while such percentage was under 60 points in rural areas. However, details can be seen in the table given below:

2.8 HOMELESS POPULATION

In the entire district there were only 2,584 persons who had no shelters as reported in 1998 Census. Of these 93.2 per cent were Muslims with majority, 63.1 per cent, never married, 54.5 per cent males while 45.5 per cent females. Of total homeless people 84.4 per cent were living in urban areas, of whom 92.7 per cent were Muslims. Nearly two-thirds of them were never married, 53.9 per cent males and 46.1 per cent females.

PART - III
BROAD ANALYSIS OF HOUSING CENSUS DATA

3 BROAD ANALYSIS OF HOUSING DATA

3.1 LEVEL OF CONGESTION

Level of congestion of housing units is determined in terms of persons per housing unit, or persons per room or rooms per housing unit.

The number of persons per housing unit has increased from 6.9 in 1980 to 7.1 in 1998 , implying thereby that houses have been congested with time because of slow tempo of construction and high growth rate of population observed during the last decade or so.

The persons per room has decreased from 3.3 in 1980 to 3.0 in 1998 due to increased number of rooms per housing unit from 2.1 to 2.4 during this period. In term of percentage housing units with one room only it has considerably decreased i.e. from 47.7 to 32.8 points while housing units with more than one room have increased from 52.3 in 1980 to 67.2 in 1998. The table given below provides comparative data on congestion from last two censuses.

TABLE 3.1 INDICES OF CONGESTION IN 1980 AND 1998

Index	1980	1998
Persons per Housing Unit	6.9	7.1
Persons Per Room	3.3	3.0
Rooms per Housing Unit	2.1	2.4
Housing Units with one Room (Percentage)	47.9	32.8
Housing Units with 2-4 rooms (Percentage)	5.4	58.4
Housing Units with 5 rooms and more (Percentage)	3.9	8.8

3.2 NATURE OF TENURE

Over 70.6 per cent of the housing units are owned, 19.8 per cent rented while remaining 9.6 per cent rent free. The percentage share of owned housing units has increased from 67.8 per cent since 1980 while rented units and rent free have decreased from 21.6 and 10.5 per cent respectively. Regarding urban/rural differential, the percentage share of owned housing units are 68.2 and 82.4 while those of rented and rent free housing units are 22.2 and 8.3 and 9.6 and 9.3 per cent respectively. Table 3.2 gives detailed data on type of tenure with rural urban break up in 1980 and 1998.

TABLE 3.2 NATURE OF TENURE BY RURAL/URBAN AREAS, 1980 AND 1998

Tenure	All Areas		Rural		Urban
	1980	1998	1980	1998	1980	1998
Owned	67.8	70.6	87.4	82.4	63.9	68.2
Rented	21.6	19.8	3.6	8.3	25.2	22.2
Rent Free	10.5	9.6	9.0	9.3	10.8	9.6

3.3 PERIOD OF CONSTRUCTION

There has been continuous sharp decline in construction of housing units during the last one decade or so. About 57.9 per cent of housing units were constructed at least 10 years ago, 22.8 per cent during 5 to 10 years before the 1998 Census taking, only 18.0 per cent were constructed during 5 years preceding the census date and hardly 1.2 per cent were constructed during a year before census taking. Almost similar pattern is observed in urban and rural areas except slight variation in their percentage shares.

3.4 CONSTRUCTION MATERIAL OF OUTER WALLS

Baked bricks, cemented blocks and dressed stones were the main construction material used in outer walls of the buildings in the entire urban and rural areas. Around 94.5 percent of such material were used while un-baked bricks, wood, bamboo and other materials were hardly used by 5.5 per cent of the housing units. Table 3.3 provides detailed data on construction material used in outer walls with urban rural break up during 1998.

TABLE 3.3 MATERIAL USED IN OUTER WALLS BY RURAL/URBAN AREAS, 1998 (IN PERCENTAGE)

Un-baked Bricks/Earth Bounded	4.8	10.0	3.7
Wood/Bamboo	0.5	0.6	0.5
Others	0.2	0.3	0.2

3.5 CONSTRUCTION MATERIAL OF ROOFS

About 58.6 per cent of the housing units used reinforced cement concrete or bricks (RCC/RBC as construction material in roofs of their buildings, 12.7 per cent housing units used cement or iron sheets and 26.2 per cent used wood/bamboo while remaining have used other construction material. Marked differences are observed in construction materials between urban and rural housing units, the main material is wood/bamboo used in rural areas and RCC/RBC in urban areas. There are 52.9 per cent housing units in rural area and 64.9 per cent in urban areas using such material.

3.6 SOURCE OF DRINKING WATER

Around 77.4 per cent of the housing units are using piped water, majority of which has that facility in their own houses. About 21.5 per cent are using hand pump for potable water. Just 0.4 per cent households are using potable water taken out from wells. Such facility is mostly being availed in rural areas where their percentage share is around 0.8. Table 3.5 provides details about the source of drinking water with rural and urban break up in 1998.

3.7 SOURCE OF LIGHTING

Predominant housing units are using electricity as source of light representing 95.9 per cent of the housing units both in urban and rural areas. Kerosine oil is being used by approximately 3.3 per cent of the housing units while other sources of light like patromax, mustard oil etc. are hardly being used by 0.8 per cent of the housing units. Table 3.6 provides, in detail, percentage of housing units by source of light with urban and rural areas in 1998.

3.8 COOKING FUEL USED

Nearly 20 per cent of housing units are using wood as cooking fuel in their houses while over 63 per cent are using gas for this purpose. About 12.2 per cent are using kerosine oil as cooking fuel in their houses. Regarding urban and rural differential main cooking fuel used is wood in rural areas representing 57.6 per cent and 73.4 per cent gas in urban areas. Table 3.7 indicates percentage housing units by source of cooking fuel with urban rural break up in 1998.

3.9 AVAILABILITY OF KITCHEN , BATHROOM AND LATRINE

Separate kitchen, bathroom and latrine are available in 44.2, 47.8 and 48.8 per cent of the housing units respectively. Shared kitchen, bathroom and latrine facilities are available in 19.9, 36.7 and 38.2 per cent of the housing units while remaining have no kitchen, bathroom and latrine facilities in their housing units. Significant differences are observed in rural and urban areas regarding such facilities. The percentage shares of separate kitchen, bathroom and latrine facilities are more in urban as compared to rural areas. While percentage shares of non-availability of kitchen, bathroom and latrine facilities are far higher in rural than urban areas which is the characteristic of villagers in developing countries like Pakistan. Table 3.8 gives details on availability of kitchen, bathroom and latrine facilities in housing units by urban and rural residence, 1998.

3.10 SOURCE OF INFORMATION

The question on source of information was asked for the first time in the 1998 Census. There were only three main sources of information enquired through the census. These were watching of T.V., listening to radio and reading of newspapers. Approximately 73.0 per cent of the households have access to television, radio or newspapers for keeping themselves informed about day to day happenings around them. Over all 91.7 per cent of the households have T.V facility. About 29.8 per cent of the residents are listening to radio. Nearly 50.5 per cent of people are reading daily newspapers. Table 3.9 provides further details on percentage households by source of information at rural and urban residence in 1998.

DEFINITIONS AND CONCEPTS

Urban Areas

All localities which were either metropolitan corporation, municipal corporation, municipal committee, town committee or cantonment at the time of the census, were treated as urban.

Household

A household means a group of persons living together who have collective arrangement for eating. A person living alone was also considered to constitute a household. The distinguishing characteristic of a household is its common cooking arrangement.

Housing Unit

A housing unit means a separate and independent place of abode, inhabited by one household and, if vacant, meant for habitation by one household. It does not necessarily mean a separate building. A building may have one or more housing units. Furthermore, any place not intended for habitation but occupied by a household at the time of census was also treated as a housing unit.

Room

A room is defined as a space in a housing unit having a roof and walls from roof to floor. This includes sleeping, dining, drawing, study, children's and servant's rooms but excludes kitchen, bathroom, latrine, store, balcony, porch and motor garage.

Age

Age is recorded as of the last birthday.

Marital Status

Marital status has been classified into never-married, married, widowed and divorced. Never-married applies to persons who have never been married. Married includes all persons who are at present married and living as husband and wife as well as those married persons living apart but having a living wife/husband. Those couples, whose marriage (Nikah) had been solemnized but giving away ceremony had not taken place, were also treated as married. Widowed applies to a person whose husband or wife was dead but who had not married again. Divorced applies to both divorcer and divorcee, if not remarried.

Religion

Religion is recorded and tabulated as informed by the respondents.

Literate

A person who can read a newspaper and write a simple letter, in any language, is treated as literate.

Field of Education

(a) General Education

It includes educational programmes of primary, middle, matriculation, intermediate and bachelor's degree in arts or science.

(b) Technical/Engineering

It includes engineering educational programmes in the fields of electrical, electronic, industrial, metallurgical, mining, mechanical, agricultural, forestry, chemical, petrochemical, aviation, nautical, etc. It also includes programmes in survey, drafting and designing, all types of engineering technician programmes, all types of trade, craft and industrial programmes. Architectural and town planning programmes are also included.

(c) Medicine/Tib

It includes educational programmes of medical diagnostic and treatment techniques, medicine and surgery, medical X-ray techniques, dentistry, pharmacy, etc.

(e) Commerce/Business Administration

It includes educational programmes of typing, shorthand, clerical, secretarial, operation of office machines, book keeping, accountancy, electric data processing, business administration, marketing and sales, financial management and investment analysis, public administration, institutional administration, personal administration and other commercial, business and public administration programmes.

(f) Teaching

It includes all educational programmes which enable the teachers to teach all types of subjects to all categories of students. It includes education science programmes.

(g) Agriculture/Forestry/Animal Husbandry

It includes educational programmes of agriculture, forestry and fishing including general agriculture, animal husbandry, horticulture and gardening, crop husbandry, agricultural technology, food sciences and technology, veterinary, medicine, fishery science and technology, etc.

(h) Law

It includes educational programmes in jurisprudence, history of law, international law, labour law and maritime law and other laws.

(i) Economically Active Population

The economically active population comprises the persons aged 10 years and above of either sex who are engaged in some work for pay or profit including un-paid family helpers as well as those: not working but looking for work and laid off.

The Crude Activity Rate is measured as the percentage of economically active persons to the total population while the Refined Activity Rate is measured as the proportion of economically active persons among the population exposed to the risk of entering the economic life.

In collection of the data on economic activities "usual status" approach has been adopted as against the approach of labour force surveys, where data is usually collected on "current status" basis.

(j) Occupation

Occupation means the main job, profession, trade or kind/type of work usually performed by a person. In case of more than one occupation, the principal occupation is recorded. The principal occupation is that in which the person works most of the time.

(k) Industry

Industry means the activity of the organization, or business in which a person usually works.

Employment Status

(a) Self-employed

Self-employed is a person who operates his own farm, business, or industry or practices a profession but does not employ any hired help, paid either in cash or kind.

(b) Government employee

A Government employee is a person who works in any Government/Semi-Government Organization for pay.

(c) Private employee

A Private employee is a person who works, for pay, for person/farm/shop/firm/ organization/office which is not run or managed by the Federal/Provincial/Local Government/Autonomous body.

(d) Employer

Employer means a person who operates his own farm, business or industry or practices a profession and who employees one or more persons for the purpose.

(e) Un-paid Family Helper

Un-paid family helper means a person who works, without pay or profit, on family farm, business or industry.
